9 YOUTHS ACCUSED OF RAPING 15-YEAR-OLD GIRL

WOODLEY ASKS PAROLE BOARD FOR FREEDOM

Confessed Green Murder While in Stockade in Germany
DENIED PART IN KILLING WHEN RETURNED TO US

Clarence A. Woodley Jr., 27-year-old Pottstown soldier who confessed and then denied any part in the 1946 murder of Mrs. Miriam F. Green, has applied for release on parole from the US penitentiary in Lewisburg. He becomes eligible for release on Feb. 28.

This was learned yesterday from W. W. Fitzpatrick, supervisor of classification and parole at the Federal penitentiary, where Woodley is serving an eight-year term for armed robbery while serving with the Army in Germany. He was sentenced in the Spring of 1950.

A review of his case is scheduled by the US Board of Parole in the near future.

It was after his Army court-martial conviction for robbing a German taxi-driver, and while he was in a prison stockade in Germany, that he made the confession to the scarf murder of the attractive brunet divorcee in her Chestnut street apartment.

When he was returned to this country and was interviewed by police and Montgomery County District Attorney J. Stroud Weber in Lewisburg, he denied emphatically.

Fire Extinguishers Used to Save Kitchen

The rapid use of portable fire extinguishers prevented serious damage in a Sanatoga kitchen yesterday morning.

Leroy M. Shaner, Route 422, Sanatoga, reported total damage to the apartment kitchen at $250. The fire started in the electric range when one of Shaner's two small boys put a box on the burner of the stove and turned on the current.

He said the fire started while Mrs. Shaner was working in another room with the kitchen door closed and the two boys, 2 and 3 years of age, were playing in the kitchen.

The apartment is located above the Sanatoga Automotive Service station on Sanatoga hill. When the fire was discovered three extinguishers were used.

GOULD'S STORE WILL MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

'No Business Interruption' Pledged as Firm Plans Change

Gould's Thrifty clothing, 231 High street, will move to new quarters at 207 High street.

The 12-year-old clothing firm will make the move in the next month or six weeks. There will be no interruption in business.

Frank Anderson, Pottstown realtor, announced the move yesterday.

Albert W. "Whitey" Gould, owner of Gould's Thrifty clothing, reported his lease on the 207 High street property (former retail business of Mosheim Clothing company incorporated) will begin on Feb. 1.

He said the entire interior of the store would be renovated before the move is made.

MOSHEIM CLOTHING company was sold this past fall to Harold.

Area Woman Injured In Red Hill Collision Is Resting at Home

A Pennsburg Rd woman is resting at home today following injuries she received in a two-car crash Thursday on Route 29 in Red Hill. Mrs. Margaret Duklis, 19, is suffering from head, right knee and possible internal injuries following an accident attributed to slippery roads.

Police Chief Arthur Simon, Marlborough township, said the driver of the car in which Mrs. Duklis was riding was Peter Duklis, her husband. The driver of the other car was Richard J. Thomas, 735 Main street, Pennsburg.

The police gave this account of the accident: Thomas was making a left turn off Route 29 near Brey's restaurant when his car was hit broadside by the Duklis auto. The Thomas machine was rammed against a telephone pole. Both sides of the car were damaged.

Mrs. Duklis was taken to a Green Lane physician by Harold Kline, a passing motorist. She was treated and released. Both cars received damages of $850 and were towed from the scene, Chief Simon reported.

Striking Neapco Workers To Vote on Company Offer

Members of Neapco Local 2479, United Steel Workers (CIO), will meet this morning to vote on new company proposals.

This morning's session will begin at 10 o'clock in the CIO hall, 364 King street. It will be preceded by an executive board meeting at 9 o'clock.

Pickets have been guarding the Neapco Products plant, South and Cross streets, since this past Dec. 1 when the plant closed.

Principal disagreement between the union and company is over wages.

2 Production Heads Get Appointments At Jacobs Aircraft

Jacobs Aircraft Engine company has appointed two new production managers, it was announced yesterday by Floyd J. Sisto, vice president and general manager, who also announced the company is continuing its expansion program.

B. D. Miller has been named manager of production engineering and Earl J. Kachel has been named manager of quality control.

Miller formerly was with General Electric company at St. Louis, Mo., where he was chief tool engineer. Before that, he was assistant chief engineer for Standard Steel Spring company, Madison, Ill.

He is a graduate of the University of Illinois. His early jobs were with Emerson Electric Manufacturing company, St. Louis, and Caterpillar Tractor company, Peoria, Ill.

KACHEL HAD BEEN assistant chief inspector at the Jacob's plant before his promotion.

Before coming to Jacobs he had been a master mechanic for Parish Pressed Steel company, Reading, and then an inspection foreman for Studebaker corporation in New Brunswick, N. J.

On the expansion program, Sisto noted that a new addition to the plant's shipping department has been constructed. The work was completed.

2 Autos Damaged In Limerick Accident

One hundred and seventy-five dollars damage was the result of a two-vehicle collision at Swamp pike and Neiffer road, Limerick township, early yesterday morning.

William H. Handley, Schwenksville, was operating his 1950 sedan west on Neiffer road, and Wilson Showers, Earlville, was driving his 1946 sedan south on Swamp pike when the accident took place.

Vacant Berks County Chapel May Be Restored by Perkiomen Youth Center

Union chapel in Chapel, Berks county, may be restored as a religious meeting place after 43 years.

The old building was left uncared for since 1910, when the last meeting was held there. Residents in the vicinity of the chapel recently petitioned the Hereford township supervisors to tear down the dilapidated building, claiming it endangered the safety of children near it.

The past Saturday supervisors planned to sell the chapel grounds, but on the previous day Judge H. Robert Mays of Berks county court, Reading, postponed the sale.

One of the principal reasons the old structure was not put on the auction block was the interest of the Perkiomen Youth center, a religious group. It desires to purchase the property and restore the building as a meeting site for its organization.

R. JOSEPH MERKEL, Reading attorney representing the potential buyers, said he asked the court to postpone Saturday's sale because under the terms of the sale the building would have to be torn down. His client wished to have the property only if the building were allowed to stand.

In addition to the Perkiomen Youth Center's bid to renovate the chapel, Judge Mays stated the type of sale proposed by the supervisors required a great deal of advertising before the sale could be consummated. All trustees of the property have been dead many years.

Hereford township supervisors sought to tear down the structure on the basis that it was a "nuisance."

The petition was circulated among the township residents.

New Year Continues Its Nasty Weather

January is only 10 days old, but already Pottstonians have had enough.

Infant 1953 has made one impression. It has been wet and nasty.

The weatherman has varied his weapons of torture between snow and rain. Now he promises a new inconvenience, freezing rain.

Police Stop Driver Of Car With Loot Piled Up to Roof

A two-door sedan, packed in the rear so high that the driver could not see out the rear window, caused two Pottstown policemen to wonder last night.

It also led to the arrest of a former pantry worker at The Hill school and his commitment to the borough lockup on suspicion of a felony.

Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway and Patrolman William A. Mars stopped the car on North Charlotte street after it passed their patrol car. There were no side-view mirrors and the rear-view mirror could not be used by the driver to see vehicles behind him.

Galloway recognized the driver, Gerald Freese, who said he had "no home," as a man who had been arrested several times before in the borough. In the rear of the car, blankets, clothing, radios and other merchandise were stacked roof-high.

UNDER QUESTIONING at borough hall by Galloway, Mars, Sgt. Harold E. Hahn and Desk Sgt. Russell B. Hummel, Freese said he "borrowed" most of the things in the back of his car.

Police called Robert E. Laver, Hill school investigator, Laver identified two red blankets on top of the items packed at the back of Freese's car as the property of The Hill.

Freese, under questioning by Laver, said he "borrowed" the blankets to keep warm in his car. When asked from whom he borrowed them, Freese said he did not know.

Harpist to Give Varied Program at Community Concert

Mildred Dilling, eminent American artist, will play selections on the harp before an expected capacity crowd at the community concert program Monday night.

The recital will be held in the Pottstown Senior High school auditorium.

The program is as follows: "Gavotte" by Bach-Saint-Saens; "Arioso," Bach; "Toccata," Couperin; "Siciliana," 15th century arrangement by Respighi; "Impromptu," Faure.

All Held Without Bail for Court; Child Detained in Juvenile Home

Nine Pottstown area youths accused of having relations with a 15-year-old Pottstown girl were sent to Montgomery county prison after a mass hearing yesterday afternoon before Seventh Ward Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus.

The young men, whose ages range from 19 to 25, are accused of picking her up on High street, driving her in an automobile to lonely spots near the borough and committing sodomy and rape.

The offenses with which they are charged occurred between the past August and November, it was reported by Plainclothesman Lewis M. Borgiet, who testified against them at the hearing.

The 15-year-old girl was not at the hearing. She is in detention in Montgomery hall, Jeffersonville. The nine young men were held without bail for court.

Under the law, sexual intercourse with a minor is considered to be rape, whether or not she gave her permission. Sodomy is having illegal sexual relations other than intercourse.

Police said that at least one or two more young men probably will be charged with the same offenses in the case. As the number stands now, it is by far the largest number of persons ever charged with a felony at the same time in the Pottstown area in recent years.

BEFORE THE hearing started, one of the nine shouted, "How about those guys at the —?" naming a High street establishment.

"Yeah! And what about all those other guys?" shouted another.

"Give us their names," replied Reading State Trooper John Beemer. They subsided.

Beemer and Lower Pottsgrove Police Chief Harry G. Chrusch, who both took part in the investigation, corroborated Borgiet's brief testimony at the hearing.

After preliminary evidence was presented, Attorney Eli Wismer waived a full hearing.

He was called on short notice by one of the boy's families to represent the group. He accepted the assignment but he said it was only a temporary arrangement.

PLAINCLOTHESMAN BORGIE said the 15-year-old girl's case was reported to police by her mother. The young men signed statements and the girl identified each of them, he testified.

Most of them were arrested Thursday at their homes or at work, by Motor Patrolman Robert Scheidt and Patrolman John G. Paretti.

The nine young men are: Ernest Haines, 21, of 338 Cherry street; Ann Chaplain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Chaplain, 348 Walnut street; Robert March, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy March, 426 Walnut street, and Edmund Sobresky Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Sobresky, 343 Johnson street.

Miss Noble and Miss Chaplain are cheer leaders and members of the school newspaper's sports staff; March is a cheerleader, and Sobresky is secretary for his home room class, a member of the school newspaper's sports staff and left guard on the football team.

REPRESENTING the Senior High school are two boys and two girls. They are: Bernice Shaw, daughter of H. Bert Shaw, 1318 High street, president of Pottstown school board; Mary Joan Czarick, daughter of Alexander Czarick, 248 Henry street; William H. Yohn, Jr., son of William H. Yohn, 234 Oak street, Pottstown school board treasurer, and John Babel Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Babel, Sanatoga.

Miss Shaw, a senior, is a member of the Troiad yearbook staff; Miss Czarick is president of the Junior class; Yohn is Senior class president, a member of the Safety Patrol-Drill team and president of the Honor club, and Babel, a Junior, is center on the school football team.

Pottstown Boy Scouts Set Program Plans To Observe Week

Starting Saturday, Feb. 7, just four weeks from today, Pottstown's Boy Scouts and their leaders will join the 3,250,000 other members of the movement in this country to celebrate Boy Scout week.

"Forward on Liberty's Team" will be the theme of the celebration, which lasts from Feb. 7 through Feb. 13.

Among the activities planned for the week are setting up of scoutcraft exhibits in store windows, "blue and gold dinners" attended by Boy and Cub Scouts with their parents, Sunday morning group breakfasts and attendance at church afterward, and demonstrations of Scout skills at open house meetings.

One open house is planned at First Methodist church, where the church's troop 4 will co-operate with St. James Lutheran troop 18 to put on a show.

AMONG THE BLUE and gold dinners will be one at Emmanuel Lutheran, which has an active "Scout family" consisting of a Cub pack of boys 8 to 11, a Scout troop of boys 11 to 13 and an Explorer unit of youths 14 and older.

Among Schwenksville Scouts it has become traditional for the boys and their fathers to meet for a Sunday breakfast during Scout week and attend church together.

Continental district leaders are planning to award a prize this year for the troop putting on the best show.

Drunk Driver Given 1 Year's Probation, Must Pay Damages

NORRISTOWN, Jan. 9 — William Berryman, of Perkiomenville, was placed on probation by Judge E. Arnold Forrest yesterday after he pleaded guilty to drunken driving charges but he must satisfy four conditions.

The court provided that during Berryman's year on probation he must pay the court costs within three months. During the first six months he must pay $225 to Lester Undercoffler, Gilbertsville, for damages caused his car and $100 to the court as a fine.

The fourth provision of the sentence is that Berryman must refrain from the use of any alcoholic beverage during the probationary period.

Judge Forrest reprimanded Berryman for his "I don't care" attitude during his plea of guilty. Although he was out on bail awaiting the court action, Berryman was not present.

Freese, under questioning by Laver, said he "borrowed" the blankets to keep warm in his car. When asked from whom he borrowed them, Freese said he did not know.

Town Woman Hurt When Struck by Car

A Water street woman was treated at Pottstown hospital for severe cuts on the middle and little fingers of her right hand and bruises and cuts of the left elbow after she was struck by an auto at High and Washington streets.

Mary Pennypacker, 57, of 533 Water street, first was taken to the office of Dr. Claude O. Clements, 151 North Hanover street, by Earl R. Norton, Pottstown RD 4, who was operating the sedan which struck her.

When he reported the accident at borough hall to Desk Sgt. Russell B. Hummel, the sergeant advised Norton to take the injured woman to Pottstown hospital.

Freese, under questioning by Laver, said he "borrowed" the blankets to keep warm in his car. When asked from whom he borrowed them, Freese said he did not know.

The class teacher, Robert L. Fleming, will teach the lesson and lead a discussion which will follow the lesson.

Friendship Hook and Ladder Men Hear Annual Report at Meeting

Members of the Friendship Hook and Ladder company, Boyertown, heard the company's annual fire report for 1952 at a meeting in the company hall.

The report was prepared and read by Russell H. Brooke, company secretary.

The report revealed one of lowest fire losses in six years for the borough of Boyertown. There were only two fires during the year. The damage total was $200. The company had four engines engaged in the fires. Twenty-seven firemen were employed a total of one and one-half hours.

In the rural areas, a greater loss resulted. Thirteen fires caused a total damage of $76,600. The company again had four engines engaged. One hundred and ninety eight men and the engines covered 84 miles and worked seven hours. In Boyertown and rural fires, the Boyertown Lions Community ambulances accompanied the firemen.

BROOKE POINTED OUT that fire police did a splendid job and were on duty at all fires.

During the business session, four fires were reported during the past month. Damage was $2000. The members authorized the purchase of new chains, a hydraulic jack for the fire engines and new flashlight for the fire police.

Eight new members were enrolled to swell the company enrollment to 2112 members.

Know Your Mercury Carrier

Dennis Hurchalla, Mercury carrier since this past Aug. 1, can run two and one-half miles in 17 minutes.

This is the mark he set while running on the Junior High school track team this past Fall. He doesn't serve papers that fast, but he finds the early morning route and cross country go hand in hand.

He keeps his legs in shape delivering 98 papers six mornings a week. Next Spring he'll report for a distance berth on the high school track team.

His favorite track star is cross country teammate Earl Rogers, who ran the two and one-half mile course at Pottstown High in less than 15 minutes.

DENNIS, A son of Mr. and Mrs. Hurchalla, 993 Terrace lane, is enrolled in the academic curriculum at the Junior High school. His plans include college after graduation.

Boyertown Outlasts Norco, 63-59

STAUFFER SCORES 29 POINTS IN BEARS' 10TH WIN

By ED TAGGERT

North Coventry's Wildcats all but clawed the fur off Boyertown's Bears last night, but the undefeated visitors struggled through to a 63-59 win for their 10th straight victory.

Trailing by 14 points at halftime, and by 18 early in the third quarter, the Norco's singled their tie court with a blistering pace that left them only one point behind with 30 seconds remaining.

The Bears wanted this fourth Perk league victory and started a freeze that was interrupted by an anxious Norco, and with 19 seconds to go in the game Dave Erb was awarded two foul shots.

He made the first but the second rolled off the rim and fortunately for the Bears, Darv Schanley cleared the rebound and the ice box act was continued. This time the home boys were unable to mess it up, and finally as the final seconds ticked off Randy Stauffer went in for a peep shot, missed it and then tapped the ball through the hoop for his 29th point of the game.

West Pottsgrove Halts Alumni Rally For 47-42 Victory

A 20 point dash down the stretch nearly snatched victory for the Alumni last night, but they fell short, 47-42, as West Pottsgrove High copped its third win of the season in four starts.

Bob Keller and Vince Colatosti each potted five markers in the Grads' torrid drive at the finish that brought them within respectable range after they trailed by 21 points, 43-20, at the three quarter mark. The high schoolers tallied only four points in the final stanza.

Muscular Paul Strzelecki booted the Falcons off fast with a six point production in the first period to boost his club to a 15-7 lead.

Four more digits for Strez in the third was the impetus behind a 14 point rally that gave the varsity enough points to rest with. He netted one more in the second period to finish with 11 points.

Keller's 14 topped the scorers, however, mixing five fielders and four fouls for his total. Colatosti ended with eight.

IN THE GIRLS' prelim, the present group of Falconettes romped to a 46-27 victory for their second straight of the year without defeat.

Helen Abrams and Joan Egolf split 34 points for the victors, while Sis Gaugler's 10 topped the Alumnae.

Boyertown Girls Win 2d, 37-12

Boyertown High's girls kept their own little unbeaten string alive yesterday, racking up win No. 2, at the expense of Fleetwood, 37-12.

Sherri Le and Gloria Fleming rang up 14 and 11 markers, respectively, in the one-sided tussle on the Beartown's floor, in which the visitors never counted more than five points a period. The Fleets only got a fieldgoal in the first period and failed to score in the third.

Boyertown, the defending Perkiomen-Schuylkill girls champ, risks its 1-0 circuit mark at North Coventry Tuesday.

North Coventry cage captain Duke Kinckner (9) is shown above just about to deposit two points in the strings in the foreground for the Cats in the second period of last night's 63-59 squeaker loss to league-leading Boyertown. No. 4 watching him is the Bears' Randy Stauffer, who tallied 29 points. Ernie Kully is coming in from the left, No. 7 in the backcourt is Russ Biehl, No. 12 is Gerry Grim while John Petrick (in white) and Darv Schanley (black) exchange hips under the hoop.

Golden Cubs Lose Opener to Stewart, 49-28; Jayvees Win

An inexperienced Junior High five was unable to shake the first game jitters yesterday afternoon, and lost its opener to Stewart Junior High of Norristown, 49-28.

The taller and more seasoned visitors worked the ball for easy layups and controlled the backboards throughout.

Most of the Golden Cubs fans cheering was directed at Bobby Grow, who led all the scorers with 17 points. His early shooting kept the Cubs ahead in the first four minutes, but more of his mates could hit with enough consistency to keep pace with the hustling Stewart clan.

With four starters either over the six-foot mark or pressing it, Stewart broke a 10-10 tie to move to a 17-10 first quarter advantage. By halftime they had a 10-point lead and enjoyed their best success in the third period widening the gap to 42-22.

Coach Gene Kauler's scrappy Cubs did their only steady shooting in the first quarter. Grow opened with a layup seconds after the tap-off. He then banked in a jump shot after the winners' Joe Baldasano scored a foul.

Two field goals by John Butera sent the Norristown quintet out in front 5-4. Butera was their best scorer with 14 points.

Grow again brought the lead back to Pottstown with the first of his four set shots. A set by Rickie Easton (11) and Baldasano's second foul (10) pushed the visitors to the fore by two points, but Al Laws' fast moving push shot tied the count at 8-8.

EASTON's second set and Jim Gibbons one-hander evened matters for the last time as another foul by Baldasano established Stewart as the front-runner from then on.

Grow continued to hit for three more fielders in the second period but the rest of the Cub attack bogged down. In the meantime Stewart—continually broke men loose with give and go plays.

Fred Johnson banked in a set shot just as the buzzer ended the second period to give Stewart a 26-16 lead at the intermission.

Kauler tried to insert a fast break into his offense but his youngsters, all who saw little or no action last season, were unable to follow out his plan.

Connie Weiser, in a reserve role, tallied on a push shot for the Cubs first field goal late in the third period. John Barber also came off the bench to give an aggressive showing, and swished his first jump shot attempt a short time after Weiser scored.

GROW STARTED the final period with another set and concluded the day's scoring with a pair of fouls. The sturdy floor leader shows great promise of developing into a fine player. His driving attempts met with physical resistance from the Stewart defense, but the knack is there and Grow is very likely to please the crowd with his variety of tricks.

Paul Zerkel was bottled in the pivot, largely because the outside Cubs were unable to work the ball into him. In practice he has exhibited real spring under the boards and with further training

Bucs Surge in Last Period to Cop 1st League Win, 39-29

Joe Edwards and Jim Krepps shoveled peat galore onto the last quarter fire last night as Spring City High came from behind to nab a 39-29 win over Collegeville on the Buc floor.

The pair lit up a 16 point Pirate bonfire that choked the Co's to a single fieldgoal in the final chapter. The win kept the Bucs unbeaten in 1953 after losing three straight on the tail end of '52, and gave them a 1-1 log for the Perkiomen-Schuylkill league.

The lead seesawed back and forth throughout the first half with both teams holding the edge at various intervals. SC held a 10-9 advantage at the quarter—but saw it fade into a 15-15 tie at the half.

In the third period, C-T's Ralph Weigner warmed up and sparked his club to a 12 point burst that carried it to a 27-23 three quarter lead before the Co's laid it on in the final eight minutes.

Weigner notched 13 markers to pace both clubs, while Edwards hit 12 and Krepps eight for the Pirates.

THE SERRING City Jayvees had a much easier time of it, dousing the Col youngsters, 53-15. Joe Jeffries (17) and Bob Hunter (11) led the victors. Jack Hartman's six was the highest Col figure in the preliminary.

Oddly enough, SC limited the Co's to a but two points in the jayvee game's fourth period, too, running up 20 itself to keep pyramiding its period counts.

Whippets Take Ches-Mont Lead, Coatesville Wins

Some startling developments occurred in the Ches-Mont league last night as Coatesville was frightened by Bridgeport, and Downingtown gained first place by upsetting West Chester.

The Whippets, now 2-0 in the loop, took an eight-point lead in the first period and West Chester was able to overtake them. The final score was 55-51 as Downingtown won its sixth game without a defeat. The Warriors were ranked behind Coatesville and Pottstown in the pre-season ratings.

Coatesville had all it could handle in topping the Dragons at Bridgeport, 57-50. The home team led in the third quarter before the Raiders could break loose for their 10th straight win.

Phoenixville evened its league record at 1-1 with a 45-42 win over Berwyn, now 0-2. Pottstown plays at Phoenixville Tuesday night.

NCAA to Continue Limited Restriction Of Grid Televising

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association today overwhelmingly adopted a program of strict controls for televising football next season.

The vote was 172 to 13. The outcome meant that football television fans will see approximately the same number of college games next fall as they did last season when one game a week was telecast nationally.

The action merely approved a report made by the NCAA-TV committee. This committee automatically goes out of office with the end of this meeting. It will be replaced by a new committee, which probably will be appointed around Feb. 1.

The new committee will have the job of working out details for 1953 telecasts, but will be under a mandate from the convention to following a program of controlled television.

This allows only one network appearance for any college football team, but provides some leeway on regional games. It was pointed out previously that in some areas next fall it may be possible to see two games on a Saturday, one nationally televised game and one regional contest.

NO SCHOOL will be able to make any TV commitments pending the committee's working out 1953 plans. No fireworks preceded today's vote.

Notre Dame and Pennsylvania, long the leading opponents of controlled television, again offered the only vocal proposition.

The Rev. Edmund Joyce of Notre Dame repeated charges he made yesterday that he considers the present plan "illegal and Socialistic." He added these restrictions may result in adverse publicity for the colleges.

Earlier, the delegates voted approval of a new plan to conduct the NCAA basketball tournament, ruling out teams that compete in any other post-season tourney.

The change in the basketball tournament will go into effect next March. Instead of a 16-team affair, as it was this year, the NCAA tourney will include 23 teams, including 14 conference champions which qualify automatically.

The NCAA playoffs will begin March 9 with sectional eliminations. Four regional tournaments will be played March 13-14 and the finals March 17-18. The dates are a week earlier than they were last year, in line with efforts to shorten seasons.

THIS LIMITING of seasons also is due to come up in tomorrow's closing sessions, when the convention receives the report from a special committee on playing and practice seasons. The report will recommend limits of 10 football games and 26 basketball games, with corresponding limits on practice time.

The lengthy report on post-season events gave complete approval to conference and NCAA playoffs and a less emphatic okay to bowl games and invitational meets or tournaments.

Saturday Afternoon League Begins Operations at YMCA

The four team YMCA Saturday afternoon league gets spinning today, with all teams active in a doubleheader at the Y.

In the p. m. opener, the Indians vie with the Warriors, and the Savoy Big Five and Tigers battle it out at 2:15.

The Indians are captained by Merrill Reminger and are buoyed up by Bob Gingrich, Ed Kovach, Dick Buccigaglia, Joe Caputo and Pat Antonio, among others.

Some of the standouts on Cal Swavely's Warrior quint are Jack Hampton, Dick Edwards, Dick

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)—Quarterbacks Bobby Layne and Norman Van Brocklin team up against Otto Graham tomorrow as the key performers in the pro bowl game which concludes the overdrawn football season.

Layne and Van Brocklin will alternate at the controls of the National Conference offensive platoon and Graham will steer the American Conference team in this third annual clash in Memorial Coliseum starring the leading players in the National Football League.

The contest will be televised by the National Broadcasting company. But locally it will be blacked out.

Kickoff time is 4:30 p. m. (Pottstown time). The TV show goes on 15 minutes earlier.

Coach Buddy Parker, who led the Detroit Lions to a 17-1 victory over Coach Paul Brown and the Cleveland club for the National league championship, is coaching the Nationals.

Brown pilots the Americans for the third straight year as the winner and twice runner-up title-contending coach.

A year ago the Americans took a 30-13 thumping but the year previous Graham and his coach, Brown, edged out the nationals, 28-27.

If the weather is good, 50,000 or more fans are expected. Rain held the attendance to 19,400 last year but in 1951 the turnout was 53,676 for the then brand new attraction.

PARKER HAS MADE no secret that he hopes to capitalize on the passing talent he has on the National team. With Van Brocklin, No. 8 on the program, the league's leading passer, a master of the

Rocky Castellani Dances to Win Over Tiger Jones in Split Decision

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Rocky Castellani, a dancing punch and go artist from Luzerne, boosted his claim to a place in a middleweight elimination tournament tonight by giving ever-aggressive Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, a boxing lesson to win a split decision in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Castellani weighed 159½, Jones 154½.

The crowd of 5540 paying $16,746 cheered when the votes of Judge Charles Shortell and Referee Al Berle were announced for Castellani by decisive margins but oohed and aahed when it was announced that Judge Bill Healy scored it 7-2-1 in favor of Jones.

Referee Berle scored it for Castellani 7-2-1 and Judge Shortell 6-3-1. The AP card agreed with Shortell.

This was a contest between a rangy boxer, Castellani, who moved back, counter punched effectively and then wrestled and held on inside. Jones, a 24-year-old Yonkers, N.Y. Negro, always moved in, sometimes fast, sometimes slow, but was unable to crash through Castellani's defense consistently.

There were no knockdowns in the hard-fought battle although Jones slipped down in the seventh and tenth rounds.

THE REFEREE ruled it a slip and no knockdown both times. Castellani, ranked No. 5 in the middleweight division that no longer has a ruler since Sugar Ray Robinson abdicated, turned in a neat boxing exhibition. He was cut around the left eye in the third round but it did not bother him through the rest of the night.

Boos bounced off the Garden walls when Castellani held on and tried to wrestle Jones around in the clinches. But it was effective work, nullifying Jones' vaunted punching power. Although Jones stung Rocky several times with a stiff right to the head he never was able to bring him down as he had in the first round of their ridge-wood Grove meeting last March 8, also won by Rocky.

Jones did not seem to have the dash and fire he showed the night he "arrived" with his sensational upset win over welter Johnny Bratton at the Garden, Dec. 5. Perhaps it was because he was fighting a bigger man who could out-speed him and handle him inside.

Amity Loses 4th To Perry, 56-42

Amity High dropped its fourth straight Berks county Northern division test last night, losing, 56-42, to Perry High on the Birdsboro YMCA court.

The Aces faded badly in the second period after holding onto a 14-14 standoff after a period's play and couldn't make up the gap in the second half although they outscored the Perries in the final period, 13-7.

The winners hit for 20 digits in the second canto while holding Amity to a scant five for a 34-19 halftime bulge. They built it up to 49-29 after another period and clinched the nod as the Aces started hustling late when the Perry lineup was loaded with reserves.

Artie Leibensperger led the winners' onslaught with 20 points, followed by Al Snyder with 15. Don Oxenford canned six fielders for 12 markers and the Aces' leading figure.

Amity is now 2-7 for the year. The Ace Jayvees annexed a 45-31 nod in the opener as Al Hafter speared 21 fish for the Amities.

Ivy Fashions Change For Modern Use

Fashions in ivy plants seem to be changing to meet the modern requirements of houses and apartments. New varieties have been developed and some old types are coming into popularity again. There is a vogue for small hardy plants to set on window shelves of modern houses, and for this purpose ivies are unrivaled. Fortunately, there are varieties to fit almost every purpose.

An attractive dwarf ivy is shown. It is a Hedera Helix minima. It has a small, sharply-pointed leaf and these are fairly close set on graceful branches. The margins of the leaves have a wavy effect which adds to the interest of this plant.

Although minima is almost fern-like in its daintiness and delicate in appearance, the plant is just as sturdy and dependable in its growing habits as most other ivies.

Another interesting ivy for use indoors in a window collection is illustrated. Its common name is Bunchleaf because its leaves are crinkly and seem bunched or crowded on the stem. It also is a dwarf type and has a dense dark green color.

THE BOTANICAL name for the Bunchleaf variety is Hedera Helix conglomerata. It is frequently grown outdoors and is very suitable for rock gardens. When grown in an outdoor rock garden it will creep about and finally form a dense ground-cover.

Ivy soil should be a half and half mixture of sand and clay. The plants do not need retopping often, but once a month feed with ammonium sulphate in water. Dissolve a teaspoonful in a quart of water, give about a cupful to a four-inch plant, and save the rest for the following months.

York County Boy Wins Star Farmer Award

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9 (AP)—A 17-year-old York county boy will be named a State star farmer at the 1953 Pennsylvania farm show beginning Monday.

The Keystone association of the Future Farmers of America disclosed today that John Mackison, Delta, has been selected for the award for his work on the farm which he operates jointly with his father and brother-in-law.

Penn State Beats Carnegie Tech

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9 (AP)—Penn State's basketball team made good on 26 of 36 foul shots tonight to turn back Carnegie Tech 62-51 before a crowd of only 750.

In racking up their sixth win against two losses, the Nittany Lions sent the Tartans down to their sixth consecutive home defeat.

Tech, which has won only two games, was ahead only in the opening seconds. The visitors, sparked by center Jess Arnette and forward Herm Sledzik, were ahead 33-26 at half and were never in danger.

Winter Leisure Time May Be Used By Gardeners to Latch-up on Notes

Winter is by far the most leisurely time for gardeners. It is the ideal season for catching up with reading the clippings laid aside for just such a period. Those who keep garden notes will find a careful study of the data accumulated very helpful in laying plans for the coming seasons.

Those who have potted house plants will have to follow a routine to keep them at their best. Watering may have to be a daily task, but it takes only a few minutes. When finished, fill the can again and keep it close to the plants. This will aerate the water and what is most important, adjust its temperature to that of the room.

If it takes more than one can, mix the cold water with enough of the warm to approximate room temperature.

A little feeding every two weeks or so will be appreciated by all those that are actively growing. Liquid feeding has several distinct advantages. It does not matter whether the fertilizer is a concentrated liquid or one of those highly concentrated, salt-like solid preparations.

WHAT IS important is to dilute it as directed by the manufacturer. Carefully read the label and special instruction sheet and follow the advice to the letter. If you switch from one brand to another make sure for new directions are followed.

Most gardeners have little trouble with house plant pests but one never can tell when they will appear. Make it a point to spend a few minutes each week or so examining each one carefully. Thus any infestation may be nipped in the bud.

The weight of water contained in a piece of wood can be twice that of the wood itself. The weight of the dry wood.

FARM LEADERS OPPOSE PRICE CONTROL SET-UP

Groups Tell Ezra Benson Program Should Be Eliminated

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 9 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture-designate Ezra Taft Benson said that a number of agricultural leaders have expressed opposition to the Government's price control program.

Benson said that farm groups from many parts of the country have sent messages calling for the removal of controls. He said that many agricultural organizations also protested the appointment of Michael DiSalle as economic stabilizer to replace Roger Putnam.

DiSalle was named to serve until the new Republican Administration, including Benson as a cabinet officer, is sworn in on Jan. 20.

Benson quoted a telegram from the Midwest-Livestock Feeders' association, which the incoming secretary said was "typical." The association said, in part:

"WE PROTEST the appointment of Michael DiSalle as economic stabilizer, and as an organization, we further protest the present injustices of ceiling prices and compulsory grading of livestock in the carcass.

"The present Office of Price Stabilization regulations are causing tremendous losses to cattle feeders while the consumer is not benefitting. Thousands of fat cattle have been returned from central public markets back to the farm because packers are unwilling to purchase them under present OPS regulations."

Benson has not expressed his views on price controls. He pointed out that he hasn't taken office and that price controls are not under the Department of Agriculture.

Straw May Become Pulp Material

ROME, Jan. 9 (AP)—Straw, bamboo and sugar-cane bagasse could produce enough paper pulp to meet the rising world demand for paper and newsprint, experts predicted here.

The report was made after a two-week consultation by pulp and paper experts from many nations, meeting at headquarters of the Food and Agriculture organization of the United Nations here.

The announcement added that not only is a pulp industry based on these heretofore unconventional raw materials a feasible commercial venture, but that appropriate processes exist for pulping all of them.

The 30-man meeting of chemists and foresters studied the possibility of making paper pulp from tropical and sub-tropical woods and agricultural discards. They agreed that if the means available were

17-Year-Locusts Due To Make '53 Appearance

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 9 (AP)—Fruit growers got a gloomy reminder today that 1953 is the scheduled time for appearance of the 17-year locusts.

What's worse, this year's swarm is expected to be the largest and most widespread, A. M. Woodside told 200 orchardists from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Trout are closely related to salmon.

Chemicals Can Ruin Soils, Landscaping Garden Expert Says

Upon the arrival of the snow shovel and ice scraper, be careful using such chemicals as salt and calcium chloride. You are liable to "melt" the landscaping, along with the ice and snow.

This advice is sounded by D. B. McGruder, field representative of the Dave Tree Expert company, who points out that brine and other chemical run-offs frequently are injurious to trees, shrubbery and lawns. Of course, labor-saving chemicals help make walks and driveways less hazardous, but moderation is the keynote in their use.

The tree expert urges that the minimum amounts to do the job be judiciously applied. This precaution is particularly significant when the ground is not frozen. Blankets of snow do not mean a solid freeze below. Actually, snow is an excellent insulator.

Unfrozen soil will absorb excess moisture in form, including the toxic brine you may have created. Unfortunately, damage caused by the ice melting chemicals is not apparent in winter. It will show up in a great variety of injuries when growth starts again.

EXTENT OF the injuries usually depends upon the concentration of chemicals and variety of plant material involved.

Soil Conservation Program Makes Substantial Progress in United States

Substantial progress is being made nationwide reported Thomas P. Harney, chairman of the Chester county soil conservation district.

"There are now 2467 soil conservation districts in the United States," said Harney, "and they cover 84 percent of the nation's agricultural land."

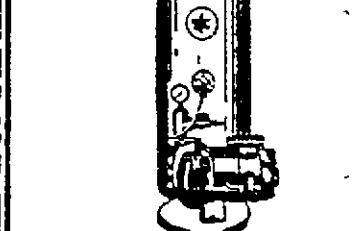

During the year July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952, 252,000 farmers and ranchers became co-operators with locally organized and operated soil conservation districts for the first time—an increase of 80 percent over the previous year.

As of June 30, 1952 there were 1,120,000 district co-operators operating 322,000,000 acres of land—more than one-fourth of all the farm and ranch land in the country. One farmer out of every five in the nation is now co-operating with his soil conservation district.

"IT IS ENCOURAGING to see progress in conservation being made through soil conservation districts," continued Harney. "Here in Chester county there are 1185 farmers who are co-operating with our soil conservation district."

Major Produce Prices Decline 2 Percent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9 (AP)—The State Agriculture department today reported a decline of 2 percent in the index of prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for major produce for the month ending Dec. 15.

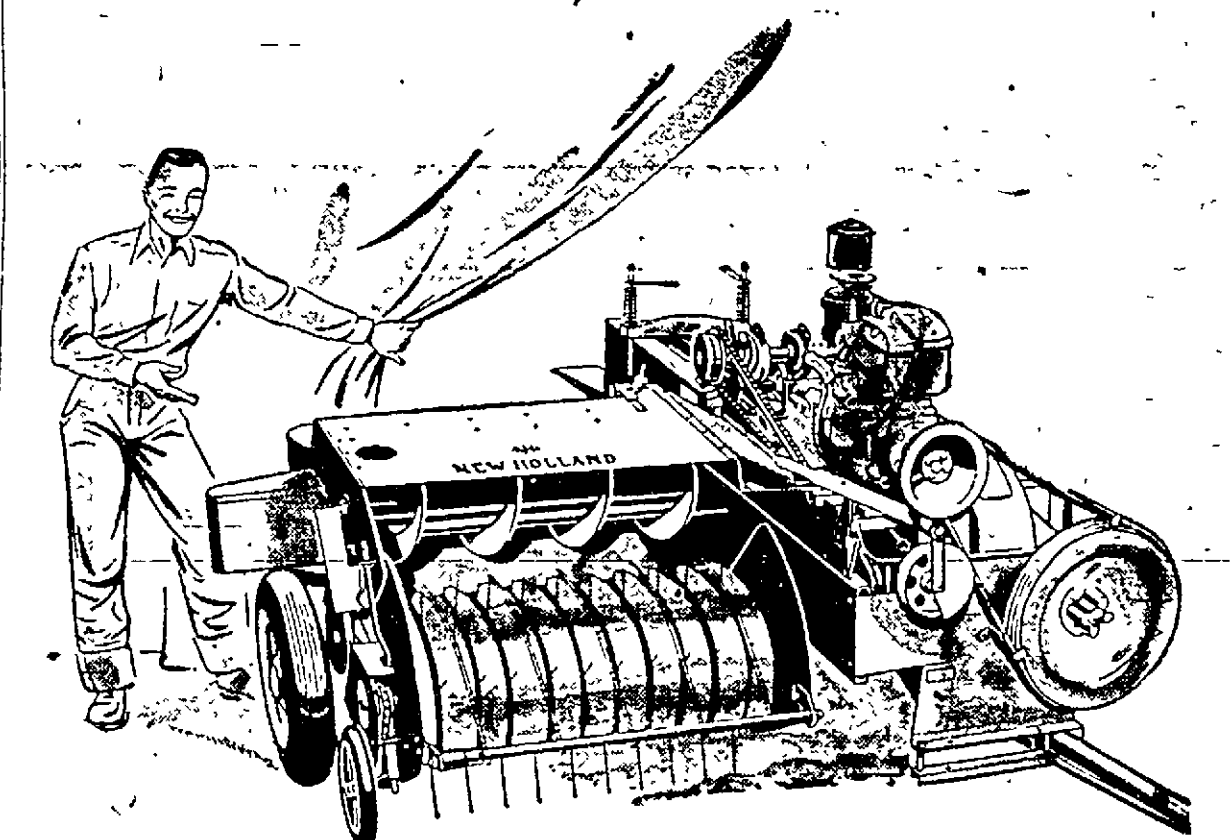

A Federal-State survey showed the index for the meat animal group is down 4 percent from mid-November with declines ranging 40 cents per 100 pounds live weight for sheep to $1.10 for hogs.

The dairy products index was down 1 percent and that of poultry and eggs was 9 percent less than a month earlier.

WE PROUDLY PRESENT The most compact baler ever built!

New Holland's great new twine baler — the compact "66"

New Holland's Sensational "66"

costs hundreds of dollars less! Makes hay baling practical on almost any farm!

HERE ARE THE FACTS:
The surprise of a life-time! That's the New Holland "66". We'll wager you've never seen a baler so compact in design... so completely new — feature after feature.
You'll be amazed the first time you see the "66". It's shorter and lower than most balers of its type on the market. It's designed to operate at full efficiency with a one or two-plow tractor. Best of all, it's priced so low that now even small-acreage farms can afford the finest in baling equipment.

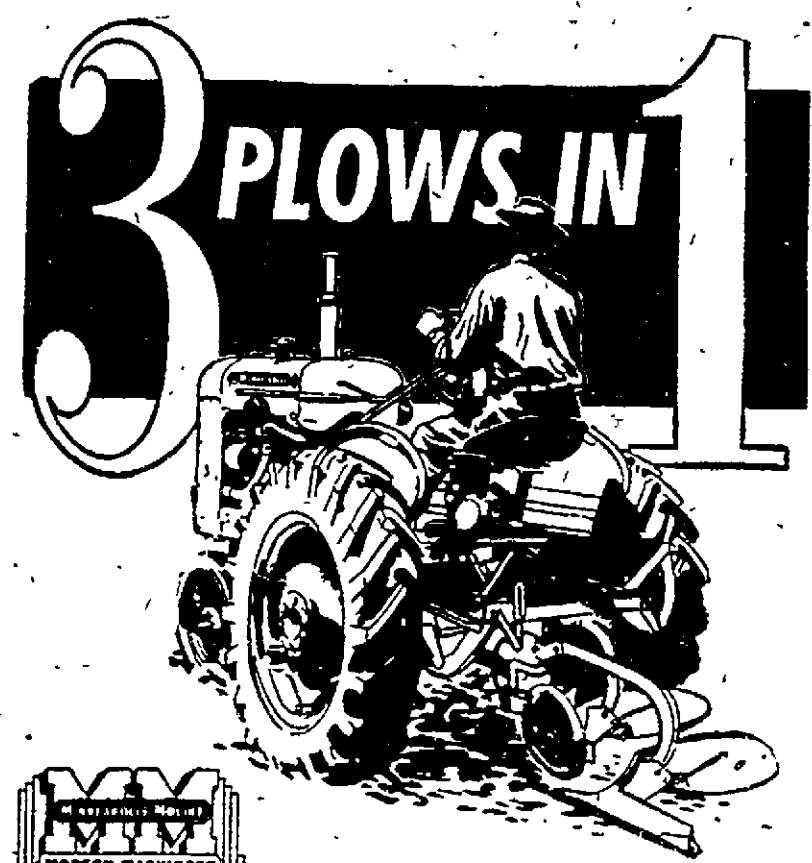

Now you can enjoy the full benefits of having your own baler on the farm. You can bale your hay the moment it's ready to come in, and bale it fast for the highest quality with least spoilage by sun or rain.
In the field you'll find it hard to believe your eyes when the efficient "66" gobbles up the windrow. Nothing seems to stop it. It can kick out 6 firm square bales a minute... package up to 7 tons of hay in an hour! And it bales anything—clover, prairie hay, sudan grass, maize.

Come in and see us right away! We're ready... and waiting to show you a "66". We'd like to go over this wonderful grass-land machine with you point by point... give you positive proof you can't buy better at the price!

The New Holland "66" proudly takes its place with the famous "77" twine-tie and the Mighty "30" wire-tie. No matter whether you feed, sell or custom bale, there's a New Holland that can do the job faster, better and at lower cost. Come in and look at YOUR New Holland today.

3 PLOWS IN 1

TRU-DRAFT "RX" PLOW
● You actually get three plows in one with the MM Avery RX TRU-DRAFT Plow. Simple adjustments permit uniform plowing of 10-, 12-, and 14-inch furrows. The RX has Hydraulic Depth Control for plowing at any depth. This control automatically returns plow to pre-set depth after each lifting.
● The TRU-DRAFT hitch, way up front on the tractor, assures best possible traction. Prevents bottoms from tipping up or down with the tractor movements. Large size springs take shocks from hidden obstacles—protect beams and bottoms. A Load Control mechanism automatically adjusts depth of plowing to load. This helps to keep your engine speed constant and saves you fuel.
● It's a Quick-On—Quick-Off plow, too. Just remove five pins to release complete plow from tractor. Attached steel jack supports front end of plow for quick, easy attachment. Come in and see us soon for complete information.

Ford's New Golden Jubilee Tractor at Landes Co.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY, manufacturer of more than 2 million farm tractors since 1917, has put into production a new, heavier, longer, much more powerful Golden Jubilee model. In 1953 Ford celebrates the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the company by Henry Ford, Sr., in 1903. The new machine is described as the most modern farm tractor ever built and is equipped with advanced type hydraulic system. Outstanding features include Hy-Trol, to increase lifting speed by a simple turn of a knob; and the entirely new overhead valve Ford "Red Tiger" engine, most powerful farm tractor engine ever produced by Ford. The new tractor is now in volume production at Ford's Highland Park, Michigan, plant. SEE IT ON DISPLAY at

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR IS LONG FELLOW

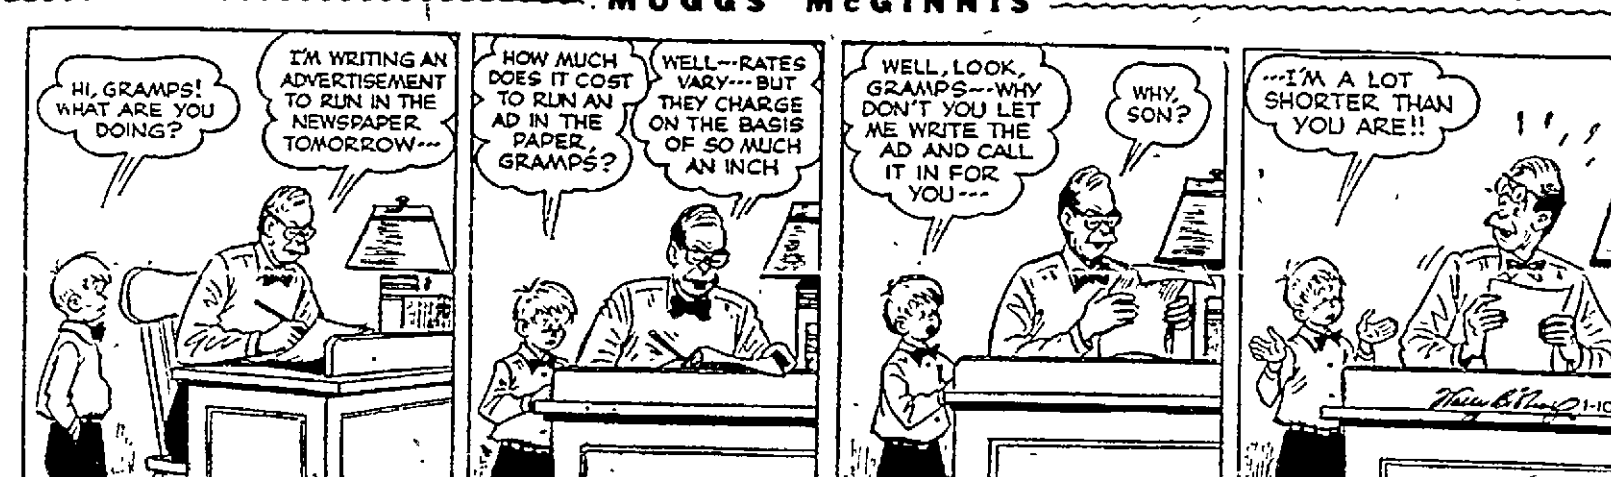

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Worker Cuts Head, Gets Knocked Out at Clay Product Plant

A 41-year-old Pottstown area worker at Robinson Clay Product company plant was knocked unconscious and suffered a gash of the forehead at noon yesterday, when his head hit a pipe while at work.

Oswin Miller, Gilbertsville RD, had the cut sutured in Pottstown hospital's dispensary. He was admitted for X-rays and observation.

Hospital physicians said preliminary indications were that the injury was not serious. His condition last night was "good."

Miller was taken to the hospital in a Good Will ambulance driven by William Tosto, who revived him and gave him first aid at the plant.

Miller told Earl Seibert, a timekeeper at the plant, who accompanied him to the hospital, that he had hit his head on a metal pipe when he spun around. Miller is a mixer in the "pug mill," where dry clay powder is mixed with water.

Gen. Bradley Interview Gels No Korea Answer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Rep. Short (D-Mo.), incoming chairman of the House Armed Services committee, said today a three-hour session with the nation's top general had produced "no answer on how or when we are going to get out of Korea."

"He says he doesn't know how and hasn't met anybody who does know," Short said, referring to Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Short said Bradley did not indicate whether military leaders are under any political restraint against using atomic weapons in Korea, but added:

"Some members of the committee feel as I do that sometimes military leaders have been a little curbed by high political decisions."

he borrowed them," he said, "Nobody, but I was going to bring them back today."

Two radios in the automobile Freese said were his own while a third he said belonged to a friend. Several suits in the car he said he purchased in Philadelphia.

Laver will make a thorough investigation at the High school today to determine items missing from the grounds and report the lost articles to police. An exact inventory of the articles in the car was not made last night, pending the report from Laver.

O'Keefe, Brink's Suspect, Can't Expect Freedom

SMETHPORT, Jan. 9 (AP)—Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, 44-year-old inmate of Bradford county jail who is a suspect in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery in Boston, can't expect to gain freedom even if he wins releases from the Towanda prison.

McKean county Dist. Atty. Claude W. Shattuck said today a detainer has been filed against O'Keefe. He said O'Keefe will be tried here on a burglary charge as soon as he is released at Towanda.

Shattuck said O'Keefe and Stanley Gusciora are accused of taking five pistols and ammunition from a Smethport store five months after the Brink's holdup in January, 1950. Both were quizzed by a Boston grand jury investigating the robbery.

Man Held in Philadelphia In Reading Rape Case

READING, Jan. 9 (AP)—A 31-year-old man who had been given a night's free lodging at a Philadelphia police station was being held here for further questioning in connection with the strange rape-murder of 14-year-old Dorothy Schlappig.

The man, whose name was not disclosed, was questioned for several hours by police officials in Philadelphia and then taken in custody to Reading for additional checks at the murder scene.

Dorothy's bloodied, nude body was found jammed into an ash barrel in an alleyway not far from her home early Wednesday morning. Police said she was slain Tuesday night.

On His Way to Help

Oswin Miller, Gilbertsville RD, is wheeled into Pottstown hospital's dispensary for treatment of a gash in the forehead caused when he hit his head on a metal pipe while at work for Robinson Clay Product company yesterday. Wheeling him is Good Will ambulance driver William Tosto, who revived him and gave him first aid at the plant.

9 Youths Charged With Raping Girl

King street, and his 19-year-old brother, Gene Haines, 410 South street; Ronald Eck, 21, Pottstown RD 3; John Swoyer, 25, Birdsboro RD 2; Raymond Gehart, 20, Pottstown RD 4.

Also, Charles Mest, 20, Pottstown RD 4; William Paup, 19, Pottstown RD 3; Lester Endy, 20, Pottstown RD 3; and Lawrence Glanski, 20, Freese's Heights, Pottstown RD 3.

Glanski was not arrested until yesterday. Ernest Haines said he was not guilty. The others were silent on this point at the hearing.

The young man who declared he was not guilty said he had surrendered to police, thinking that the more young men who admitted having relations with the girl, the less severe would be the punishment of the few young men who already had been arrested by police. Borgiet said he has a signed statement from him.

Another young man offered, apparently not entirely in jest, to marry the 15-year-old girl if that would bring dropping of all the charges, which it wouldn't.

BORGIE REPORTED that the girl had been picked up by the youths at the Reading company railroad station on most occasions, although at least once she was picked up at High and Washington streets.

Among the places where they are accused of taking her are several amusement parks near Pottstown. The parks were closed at the time.

Attorney Wismer examined most of the signed statements. He said, "The thing to do would be to waive a hearing and let the thing be fought out in court."

Women relatives of two defendants asked whether an attack on the 15-year-old girl's reputation and character would be useful in a defense.

The attorney said this would have to be decided by the defense attorney who appeared for them in court, but he expressed the informal opinion that such an attack could be an important part of the defense.

The justice of the peace pointed out to the youths that a magistrate cannot set bail for a felony; a judge must do that.

The nine were taken to the county prison in Norristown in three cars, manned by Borgiet, Beebe, Chrusch and Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads.

DRUNK DRIVER —

told Judge Forrest he did not have any money with him.

"YOU KNOW you faced sentence yet you came in here without a cent on you," commented the court. "It's about time you get some sense in your head."

The court then said it was placated by Berryman on probation, not run, other planes in the formation to show any leniency to him but, to reforming following their target in reported an apparent explosion in benefit the owner of the damaged

Lt. Free's jet. It crashed in passengerland, its canopy section was ejected but the parachute did not. Berryman was arrested by Officer after his car struck the Undercroft. Berryman's body was found within a half mile of the plane wreckage, Moore and Pottstown avenue, Pennsburg, on Dec. 21.

They're Finished Basic

In Memoriam
FOX, Ethel M.—In loving memory of our daughter who passed away 2 years ago January 11, 1951. We miss you very much every day. It seemed as if you were never far away. To see you slowly pass away, And could not give relief, Your weary hours and days of pain And troubled nights are passed. And in our hearts we know, You leave a sweet rest at last. State Safety Bureau Revokes 1 License, Suspends 10 Others

The State Bureau of Highway Safety suspended 10 drivers' licenses, revoked 1 and restored 8 in the Pottstown area during the period Dec. 15 to 31.

Those suspended included Alfred Laubmeir, 130 Chestnut street; Arthur R. Walter, Souderton RD 1; A. Pierce Hagenbush, 10 East Eighth street; George R. Walter, Souderton RD 1.

Also, Albert Grey, 307 Vine street, Stowe; Thomas B. McAvoy 3d, Phoenixville RD 1; Howard William Barr, Zieglerville; Willie C. Stone, Uchland; Joseph T. Podobinski, 514 High street, Phoenixville; and George C. Miller, Pottstown RD 2.

The one license revoked was that of Max P. Dobbs, 676 Hawthorne avenue.

RESTORED LICENSES during the two-week period included those of Woodrow Davidheiser, Douglass-

$50,000 Ray Estate Is Willed to Three

By Staff Correspondent.

NORRISTOWN, Jan. 9 (AP)—A daughter and two step-daughters will inherit the $50,000 and upwards estate left by Mrs. Olive H. Ray, 75, of 770 High street, Pottstown, who died Jan. 2 in Garfield Memorial hospital, Washington, D.C.

The will provides that 60 percent of the estate is to go to a daughter, Mathilda Jane Ray Thompson, of Washington, D.C., and 20 percent each to step-daughters, Bee Ray Shuman, of San Francisco, Calif., and Roberta Ray Mills, of Pottstown.

Premiers of Greece, Italy Pledge for Peace

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 9 (AP)—Visiting Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Greek Premier Marshal Alexander Papagos tonight pledged themselves to strengthen friendly Italian-Greek relations and work for peace in this part of the world.

In an exchange of toasts at a Greek Government dinner honoring the Italian premier, Papagos said: "I know your presence in the Greek capital is aimed at tightening still more Italo-Greek relations, to open broader, new horizons toward collaboration of our two countries and consolidate peace."

Thirty Area Shriners To Attend Reading Memorial Ceremony

Thirty Shriners from the Pottstown area will attend a memorial service in Rajah theater, Reading, tomorrow.

They will swell an attendance from nine Rajah Temple Shrine clubs located in Schuylkill, Lehigh, Montgomery, Lancaster, Lebanon and Chester counties.

This was announced yesterday by James Nottle, Shrine potentate's representative here. Other Pottstown potentate's representatives are S. Paul Seeders, Alfred Haas and George Haas.

Potentate Leon S. Blimline planned this year's service. Members may bring their ladies and invite Masonic friends.

Heretofore the service was held in conjunction with the temple's annual meeting and was open to members only.

THE REV. PAUL KEHM, former Pottstonian and chaplain of Rajah Temple, will officiate at the one-hour program. He will preach the memorial sermon. The Rajah band will present a band concert with chanters taking a prominent part. The service will start at 3 p. m.

"Thule" is the ancient Greek and Roman name for what was then believed to be the most northern land in the world.

Strand Shoe Repair Says It's a Fact

DO NOT EAT CLOTHES!

NOTES DO NOT EAT CLOTHES! Moths lay eggs which develop into larvae. These larvae are the guilty culprits! They then change into pupae and form cocoons, from which later emerge the innocent moths. I. "Popular Fallacies"—A. S. E. Ackermann—Third Edition. 2. "Encyclopedia Britannica"—11th Edition.

NEW BUDGET SUBMITTED BY GOVERNMENT

$78 Billion Expenditure Proposed to Ike Administration

SOME REPUBLICANS VOW TO CUT TRUMAN PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Truman bequeathed the Eisenhower administration today what he called a tight Federal budget proposing to spend $78,337,000,000 for "Safety and well-being" at home and for combating the Communist scourge abroad.

Republicans in Congress cried "spendthrift" and vowed to slash the figure. Some mentioned a cut of at least 10 billion dollars.

The vast spending proposal for the 1954 fiscal year starting July 1, 1953, contemplates a big boost in foreign aid and a record peacetime outlay to finance and equip America's growing military force.

The President estimated it would spell a Federal deficit of nearly 10 billion dollars, increasing the national debt to a total of 275 billion.

THE NEW BUDGET is about $6,800,000 less than the one Truman submitted a year ago. At that time he proposed spending about $85,400,000,000 in the current fiscal year. But Congress changed some of his plans, and others were altered by failure of the defense program to meet production schedules. So today he estimated that spending, for the present year would be about $74,600,000,000 instead of $85,400,000,000.

The budget for next year assumes that present prosperity will hold at present levels, that some taxes now on the books will be allowed to die on schedule, and that the incoming administration will continue foreign aid and military spending at a heavy rate.

GOP protests in Congress included such terms as "fantastic." Those talking of slashes singled out foreign aid as a likely starting point for economizing.

Both in Senate and House, Republicans who will have a hand in handling money and tax legislation predicted it won't be long before Eisenhower comes along with a much lower budget. Many of them said it ought to be possible to balance the budget and cut taxes at the same time.

Some Democrats joined in the clamor to slash spending.

The House started right in the reading of the 20,000-word presidential budget message as soon as it met at noon today. The 98 members on the floor chatted and read papers, for the most part, as a clerk droned through the message—skipping plenty of it on the way.

The Senate held off the reading for a while.

House speaker Martin commented:

"No one should be alarmed by today's phantom budget for 1954. It is a spendthrift budget, calculated on policies and programs which no longer prevail. At the proper time, the new administration will submit its own program, and a balanced budget to support it."

Eisenhower Renews His Opposition To Deficit Spending; Favors Balance

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—President-Elect Eisenhower reportedly renewed his opposition to deficit spending today—at almost the same moment that President Truman was submitting a deficit budget to Congress.

Rep. Coudert, New York Republican, visited Eisenhower and told newsmen that the president-elect reaffirmed that "he is very much in favor of balanced budgets and against deficit spending."

Truman's budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 totaled $78,337,000,000, with estimated receipts of $68,665,000,000, which would mean a deficit of $9,222,000,000.

Coudert said he was confident the Eisenhower administration would work with Republican Senate and House majorities to wipe out waste and duplication and reduce expenditures "to enable us to balance the budget with reduced taxes."

COUDERT, A MEMBER of the House Appropriations committee, stressed, however, that Eisenhower expressed no views to him "in any

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

This home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Knauer at 1452 Beech street can put on a good front in winter, as this photo shows. It also has special attractiveness in the summer when a formal garden at the back comes into its own. The garden is walled all around, is set five brick steps below the house and includes fountain and flagstone patio. The house was built four years ago by William S. Stauffer, Pottstown and Boyertown contractor. The living room at left is 25 by 14 feet and has a picture window in the back, as does the dining room at right. Also downstairs are a kitchen combined with another dining area, powder room and plenty of closet space. Upstairs are two bedrooms the size of the living room, and bath. The garage is attached to the house at far right. The shutters are apple green with a little white trim. Knauer is finishing a recreation room in the basement. He is a structural engineer for Sanders and Thomas incorporated.

Attorney Is Indicted For Reaping Money In Tax Case Fees

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—The Democratic district attorney of Queens county was twice indicted today, accused of illegally reaping thousands of dollars in tax case fees while he was in Congress.

The official, T. Vincent Quinn, claimed he is the target in a Justice department test of an 89-year-old law that has never been too clearly interpreted. He said he had done no wrong.

Quinn split $35,000 with two men who were his law partners at the time he was in Congress from 1948 to 1951. They, too, were indicted, on charges of abetting him.

The fees came from New York city firms that hired Quinn's law partnership to represent them in tax cases here and in Washington.

QUINN, A ONE-TIME assistant US attorney general, resigned from Congress in 1951 after his election as district attorney of New York city's third largest county.

He interprets the law to prohibit a Congressman from sharing fees in a purely civil tax case. But he maintains there is no bar to taking fees in a criminal tax case.

The Justice department, however, cited an 1884 law which it said prohibits the acceptance of such criminal tax fees. The law, however, has been subject to various interpretations and Congress presently has before it a proposal to tighten it.

Tornadoic Winds Pummel 2 Sections Of Gulf Coast; Most of Florida Is Hit

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 9 (AP)—Tornadoic winds pummeled two sections of the Gulf coast today as blustery weather swirled over most of the Florida peninsula.

A tornado described as the worst in memory hit Hillsborough county, destroying at least five rural homes, damaging 40 others and injuring one person.

A smaller twister dealt Sarasota at 100,000 blow, and roaring rain squalls were felt far and wide over the southern half of Florida.

The Hillsborough storm's path was declared a disaster area by the Red Cross. Relief workers were sent from Tampa.

COLEBY HINSON received several broken ribs at Durant, 10 miles southeast of Tampa, when his house collapsed. He and his wife and their seven-year-old boy huddled in the living room and escaped death as the roof fell on their beds.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hodges were carried about 50 feet when their home near Pleasant Grove was torn apart. They escaped with bruises.

J. P. Foster said the approaching storm "sounded like a squadron of bombers."

"Then the tornado struck, tearing most of the roof off my house," he said. "I grabbed my daughter, Linda, and with my wife made a rush for our truck. The wind knocked me down once."

The family sat out the storm after the truck was nearly upset by the wind.

Winds estimated up to 80 miles an hour, accompanied by heavy rain and terrifying thunder and lightning, gave Sarasota a bad 10 minutes.

No Responsibility Fixed for Air Raid On US Service Unit

SEOUL, Saturday, Jan. 10 (AP)—Air Force and Army investigators Friday examined burned tents, 15 bomb craters and a dud bomb in a US service unit behind the lines where several American soldiers were killed or injured in an air attack but fixed no responsibility for the raid.

One soldier who saw the attack Thursday declared it came from a US F-84 Thunderjet, but there was no official identification.

Others at the artillery service unit behind western front lines near Yoncheon, said the raid was so swift they could not identify the plane.

An Air Force spokesman said the facts would be made public as soon as it was known definitely if a US plane was involved. Reporters who visited the scene were escorted by officers. Men they talked to were instructed not to speak of the attack.

THE ATTACKER swept in low for a strafing run, banked sharply, returned and bombed the area. Then the plane headed south, strengthening speculation that it was an Allied aircraft. Communist planes rarely venture as far south as the front.

US Help Is Asked In Russian Threat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Yugoslav Ambassador Vladimir Popovic disclosed tonight that his government has asked the United States for increased military assistance because of the growing strength of Soviet forces on the borders of Yugoslavia.

He told reporters, in response to questions, that there are 61 satellite divisions in Communist Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, and that the Russians have ten divisions in Rumania, Hungary and Austria.

Moreover he said, the satellite divisions would each be expanded to two or three divisions within a period of 10 to 30 days in event of all-out mobilization on the Communist side. He said Russian equipment is being supplied to the satellites to meet the requirements of this possible ultimate military force.

Tug-of-War Taking Place Over Status Of Senator Morse

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who bolted the Republican party during the heat of the presidential election campaign, today appeared likely to be bumped from two choice committee assignments in the new 83rd Congress.

A tug-of-war over Morse's status as an independent developed as Senate leaders worked to fill out the all-important slates of committee assignments.

Republican informants said privately the probable upshot was that Morse would lose his present seats on the powerful Labor and Armed Services committees where his role as the Senate's lone independent would not threaten major GOP strategy.

Sen. Case (R.S.D.) told newsmen the GOP theory is that Morse lacks seniority for committee assignments because he is starting out anew as an independent.

CASE SAID the party takes the position that Morse lost his eight-year seniority as a Republican when he quit the party the past Fall.

Morse told reporters he plans to appeal to the entire Senate if he is dropped from the two key committees when the assignment slate comes before the chamber next week.

Nine Dead Crewmen Listed by Air Force In Georgia Crash

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 9 (AP)—The Air Force tonight officially listed as dead nine crewmen of a B-50 bomber sent hurtling into a coastal marsh after collision with a sister ship at 14,000 feet Wednesday night.

Hunter Air Force base authorities said some of the bodies probably could never be recovered. At first they held a faint hope that some of the men may have parachuted to safety.

A wing apparently was sheared from the craft in a brush with another B-50, which was able to land safely with its crew of 10 although 10 feet of its tail assembly was ripped off.

The torn and charred bodies of three from the crashed plane were found near where it blasted a 35 by 75 foot crater in the muck of the marsh, exploded and spewed out geysers of burning gasoline last night.

The other six are listed as missing and a search for survivors or bodies—continues. Hunter Air Force base officials said that since the collision was 14,000 feet up, there is a chance some of the men were able to parachute safely into the marshes or bordering high ground.

LT. COL. COLIN C. HAMILTON, pilot of the B-50 that escaped disaster, said the shock of the collision was like that of lightning. In fact, the Hunter tower was first notified that the plane had been struck by lightning.

Base officers refused to say whether the two planes were radar-equipped or, if so, whether the sets were in operation. If radar screens had been functioning and properly monitored, presumably the pilots would have been advised that they were approaching each other.

The base had no comment either on a report that one of the planes was making a practice instrument approach for a landing from a training flight.

TRUMAN ORDERS LOYALTY PROBES OF UN EMPLOYES

Present and Future US Personnel Included

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Truman today ordered loyalty investigations of all present and future American employees of the United Nations.

The order, announced by the White House, covers approximately 3000 US citizens presently employed on the UN Secretariat and in specialized agencies of the international organization.

Officials said the FBI is expected to start with 10 Americans who have been retained on the UN payroll at New York despite adverse reports from the State department.

An outgrowth of charges in Congressional inquiries and by a New York grand jury that the Secretariat harbors many pro-Communist Americans, the order provides:

1. A preliminary screening by the Civil Service commission of most American employees of the UN. If this turns up any derogatory information, a full investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation will follow.
2. A FULL INVESTIGATION at the outset of American members of the "internationally recruited staff" of the UN—the more important jobs.
3. Passing on results of the investigations to the secretary general, who has responsibility under the charter for UN personnel. Where derogatory information is turned up, the employee concerned will be notified of his rights to appeal to a civil service regional loyalty board and the loyalty review board of the civil service commission.

His primary task as CIA chief was to reorganize the agency and make it an effective instrument for collecting, analyzing and distributing information throughout the Government.

THIS APPOINTMENT has not been announced yet by Eisenhower, but a spokesman for Wiley said it would be forthcoming shortly.

Smith, 57, served as Eisenhower's chief of staff in Europe during World War II. On a secret mission to Portugal in 1945, he negotiated for Italy's surrender. Later he served as American ambassador in Moscow.

STRASBOURG, France, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jean Monnet, chairman of the Schuman plan's executive authority, produced a plan today to boost West Europe's coal and steel production by millions of tons over the next five years. American money may be needed to finance it.

The father of the successful French program of industrial re-equipment and modernization predicted the new partnership of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg will produce about 50 million tons of steel and 285 million tons of coal annually by 1958.

Acting as West Europe's Federal executive on steel and coal, Monnet and other members of the authority also envisaged a building program which could erect at least 50,000 new workers' homes every year.

Armed Student Mobs in Pakistan Riot, Burn Shops, Fight Police; 11 Killed

KARACHI, Pakistan, Jan. 9 (AP)—Armed student mobs, said by security officials to have been infiltrated by Communists, rioted, burned shops and fought with police in Karachi's streets again today and turned their vengeance against foreigners.

Casualties mounted to 11 killed and more than 150 injured in the three days of disturbance, set off Wednesday by student protests against a 45 percent hike in tuition fees.

Three battalions of troops were called in to help police and a dusk-to-dawn curfew was proclaimed throughout this Moslem city.

The military was given orders to shoot at sight anybody seen looting or setting fires.

LATE TODAY the mob's attacks turned against foreign property. A warehouse owned by a British firm on McLeod road, where most foreign businesses are located, was looted and burned.

Chief Commissioner Abu Talib Naqvi told reporters tonight that Communists definitely had a hand in the disorders and that he anticipated "more trouble tomorrow."

Three persons were killed and 42 injured today when police fired on the mobs.

All schools and colleges in the city were closed and many stores closed after some were looted.

Heavy police and military guards were posted at all Government buildings and foreign embassies, and special precautions were taken to protect foreign property.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1933

I never could believe that Providence had sent a few men into the world, ready booted and spurred to ride and millions ready saddled and bridled to be ridden. — Richard Rumbold on the scaffold, from Macaulay's History of England.

No Secrets at Doehler's

THE Mercury, in announcing Doehler-Jarvis stockholders would vote Feb. 6 on consolidation with the National Lead company, said 4860 of the 5680 Doehler stockholders owned fewer than 200 shares. That meant 85 percent were "little fellows."

There has been a very encouraging increase in the number of people who own stocks in American corporations—the businesses which are the hub of our vast industrial machine. And one of the best factors is that the great majority of these shareowners are typical Americans, with moderate incomes.

However, many people still seem to think that there is something of a mystery involved in buying stocks—that it's an activity which only should be followed by "insiders" with highly specialized knowledge and training. That misconception needs clearing up.

Anyone who wishes to may buy many or few shares of any stock listed on the exchanges by the simple expedient of going to a broker and placing his order. He can sell his stock in the same fashion. There is no question about the price—it is a matter of public record as it goes up or down or remains stationary from day to day. Nor does anyone "fix" that price—it is determined by what the seller is willing to pay and the buyer is willing to accept, much in the manner of an auction.

Furthermore, the prospective investor doesn't have to work in the dark so far as selecting shares in this company or that is concerned. State and national laws, and the regulations adopted by the principal stock exchanges, see to it that all pertinent information is readily available to anyone.

The people who own stock are partners in the American economy.

They have faith in the future.

Most important, they have a direct personal interest in preserving free enterprise and all the other freedoms at a time when every effort is being made to undermine them from within and without.

Take Care on Snow

WHEN Old Man Winter strikes his stormy blows, trucks and snowplows make their cautious way along principal highways, and later secondary routes, plowing snow or spreading abrasive material.

Cinders or sand particles are spread upon curves, hills and bridges, and approaches to railroad grade crossings and intersections. Because of alternate thawing and freezing, new snow or freezing rains, some locations must be gone over repeatedly. Even so, it is not always possible to guarantee safe traction.

A reliable driver gets the "feel" of the road on packed snow or ice. He reduces speed, anticipates stops well in advance, keeps a safe margin between his car and other, slows down for curves and crossroads, and uses tire chains when conditions warrant. If visibility is poor, he drives slowly and watches out for slow moving highway crew vehicles which are hard to see in blowing snow.

Even with the special "winterized" tires, stopping distances on ice average about 188 feet at only 20 miles per hour. With reinforced-type tire chains, stopping distances on ice is reduced to an average of 77 feet. When ice temperature is near the thawing point, the required distance for stopping without chains is lengthened even further, for wet ice is much more slippery than dry ice.

Breaking distances on hard-packed snow are less than on ice, but caution is still the watchword.

Ordinary tires on packed snow slide about three times as far as the average 21 feet obtained on dry concrete, while with chains the footage required is only twice as much.

Even with the best new tires, the best brakes, and the definite advantage of tire chains, when snow and ice conditions prevail it is imperative that drivers exercise added care in the use of their vehicles to prevent a skid-wreck.

All auto tires are now largely made of synthetic rubber, which wear better and perform normally on all dry or wet pavements. But synthetic rubber does slide and spin considerably more on snow and ice, so tire chains are important equipment for vehicles that must operate during these conditions. They will help avoid accidents and traffic tie-ups.

Vivisection's Unnecessary
To the Editor: Male nurse ("Vivisection Backed," Readers Say, Jan. 3, says, vivisection is a necessary evil. I wonder if he would call murder a necessary evil. Still many murders are quicker than the slow torturous death of the animal undergoing vivisection.

Allow me to quote the statements concerning the uselessness of vivisection, by the following great scientists whom I believe know a little more of vivisection than male nurses.

George Starr White, M. D., F. S. S. (London), Los Angeles, California: "It is certainly not true that the maintenance of human life necessitates the agonizing torture of animal life." He adds: "It robs students of their finer feelings, and turns them out coarse vulgar thoughtless physicians."

Tueas E. Hughes, M. D., R. C. S., London, England exclaims, "Pages and pages of theory built upon useless torture of animals."

If space would allow I could quote

many more scientists on the subject of the useless torture of vivisection. However the moral wrong of vivisection is certain.

What can be done about it? Nothing, for it is just one more of the necessary evils organized religion has failed in.

GRATEFUL

Speeders, Even Now

To the Editor: It doesn't seem likely that anyone would want to speed when highways are packed with snow and ice so Pottstown police don't pay much attention to speeders, especially since they are alerted to be on the scene of probable accidents.

But the fact is that there are speeders, more dangerous to other motorists than during dry weather.

I was driving on High street during one of the severe snowstorms the past week, just creeping along under 20 miles an hour. Three tractor-trailer trucks almost ran me off the road. They passed me as though I were standing still.

Police should be on the lookout for these speeders who throw their weight around while other motorists creep along the highways to prevent accidents.

WASHINGTON Eisenhower to Change Present Press Policy

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Although President-elect Eisenhower and his politico-journalist advisers have not yet made a final determination on the agenda of their relationship with the Washington press corps, it is now definite that the White House will not be a newsy or headline-making spot in the next four years.

The reasons behind this transformation from the gossipy Truman days and the stirring, rollicking Roosevelt era, as well as the results of the change, are of far greater concern to the American people—the readers, that is—than they are to the "writing gals and fellows" at Washington, as Calvin Coolidge used to describe us.

The weekly or biweekly press conferences with a President provide the principal contact between the public and the man in the White House. They cannot get a clear or vivid image of him from his official statements and communiques. It is through the give-and-take at these duels that they come to appreciate and understand him as a human being.

Frequently, too, they learn more of his domestic and foreign policies from the various correspondents' reports and interpretations than they do from cold, factual pronouncements. Quite often, a Presidential utterance assumes an altogether different meaning when the tone of voice and the facial expression of the men are described at the time of delivery.

In so far as Eisenhower shuts himself off from the American public in this way, it will be a loss to him and to his nationwide constituency. He risks the danger of winning a reputation as a heroic statue rather than the warm and vibrant personality that he happens to be.

IKE'S PRESS ARRANGEMENTS: The Eisenhower press arrangements, however, do not signify a shutdown or blackout on news, according to his spokesmen on this subject. They mean that the White House will become only a directing headquarters for Administration policies and activities rather than the spotlighted center of vocal decisions. Here is why:

Most of the prospective, major shifts from the Truman program will not require legislation. They can be achieved by administrative action in the various departments and Federal agencies. They can be effected with less jarring of the nation's economic system, if put into effect in a quiet and routine manner.

The significance of these readjustments can be discovered and explained by wideawake, expert and veteran reporters. This method of breaking the news gently may rob the reforms of the melodramatic quality with which a Presidential announcement would clothe them. But it may be an improvement on the 20-year pageant of drum-beating and ballyhooing at the White House under Truman and Roosevelt. It may mean less drama but more results.

Ike, of course, will make the ultimate decisions. But he will permit the announcements to come from Humphrey at Treasury, Dulles at State, Wilson at Defense, etc.

If the new relationship between President and press threatens to choke off the reporting of news to which the American people are entitled, that, too, will be reported, for Washington correspondents are a sensitive and aggressive bunch. And Ike has enough smart newspapermen and publishers in his official and unofficial entourage to make amendments and amendments in the system.

EISENHOWER ALSO has practical, political and statesmanlike reasons for cutting down on spontaneous, unconsidered and explosive remarks at these give-and-take, White House press conferences. They are based on the experiences of his immediate predecessors, Roosevelt and Truman.

Their jibes frequently generated or sharpened dissensions between the White House and Congress. It did not make for labor-industry peace when FDR denounced John L. Lewis during the sit-down strikes in Detroit.

FRITZ K., 39, is a successful grocer who enjoys people.

"Dr. Crane, I never studied 'psychology in school,'" he said, "but I've been very much interested in it as a hobby."

"People do react according to certain laws, and I only wish I knew more of them. But I have discovered several just by experimenting in my daily work as a grocer."

"For example, last Saturday we had a large supply of head lettuce on hand. It was all priced at 18 cents, though our ceiling price was 21 cents a head."

"But customers weren't buying the lettuce in any volume. I saw that we'd have to carry a great deal of it over the week-end, and thus suffer spoilage."

"So I sorted the lettuce into two piles, one of which had the larger heads. Then I placed a 21 cent sign over this pile, and kept the 18 cent price over the smaller heads."

"NOW THE customers immediately began taking more interest in the lettuce. They would handle and compare, both types of head. Soon they had cleaned us out of both piles."

"I have often noticed that if the customers are given two choices, even though there is only a small difference in quality between the two price levels, they will buy more eagerly."

"Some people apparently feel that a higher price always indicates superior value. Maybe these folks have a slight superiority complex and don't wish to be classed with the average buyer."

"Anyway, they respond better when two prices are quoted and automatically take the higher priced goods."

"Others are bargain hunters. They find that the lower priced merchandise is a better bargain than the higher, so they eagerly gobble it up."

"THUS, I pleased both types of customer with this lettuce experiment. As a result, they cleaned out all of my head lettuce."

"Consequently, I avoided the spoilage, and also got 3 cents a head more for almost 50 percent of my lettuce."

"I have observed, too, that people will not buy oranges or grapefruit if the bin is almost empty, as when only the floor of the bin is covered by one or two layers of fruit."

"But if I fill the bin with an empty cardboard box and then lay this single layer of fruit across the top, the customers will buy them all in record time."

"In the first case, I suppose they think the fruit at the bottom of the bin has been culled over by other purchasers."

"By seeing it on top of a bin, the reverse idea must be created, for then they rush to buy those very same oranges."

EMERICH FORTUNE—Alvin W. Emerich, 363 Cherry street, president of the Pottstown Central Labor Union and 450 other members of the clan in this section are awaiting anxiously the division of the reputed fifty million dollar fortune left in Germany by the long departed ship builder, John Emerich. Attorneys are now in Germany and it is claimed by them they are making progress towards securing the cash which is now believed to have increased to $185,000,000.

NEW CLUB—The Shuler Shooting Club was organized with the election of the following officers: Dr. W. J. Ashenfelter, president; Livingston Saylor, vice-president; W. S. Royer, secretary; Luther D. Showalter, financial secretary and William R. Shuler, treasurer.

★ IT'S A BOY! (AND ABOUT TIME)—William F. Christman, owner of Riverside garage, South Pottstown, was smiling the smile of a particularly proud grandfather yesterday. The smile was occasioned by the birth of the first Christman grandson in the family in the past third of a century. He has seven granddaughters. The son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William S. Christman, 100 River road, South Pottstown, at 10 o'clock Wednesday night in Pottstown hospital. He weighed in at 7 pounds, 4 ounces.

HOSPITALIZED—Howard G. "Sox" Beibold, South Coventry constable, is flat on his back in Pottstown hospital, the result of a sudden and painful ailment. He was at work at the Bethlehem Steel company plant Wednesday when he suddenly felt a sharp pain in his side. He went home, but the pain became so bad, his family called for a Good Will ambulance to take him to the hospital. There, the trouble was diagnosed as a kidney stone. The experience shook Beibold up, but he hopes to be out of the hospital again soon and back at work.

★ GIFTER—Dominic Melchior, veteran railroad employee who retired a few years ago, is just back from his fourth Winter trip to Florida. He spent a month in Miami, enjoying the swimming every day. Melchior brought home for his friends some coconuts, still in the heavy husk. The souvenirs usually are used as decorations, as they somewhat resemble armadillos, the armored animal that the Southwest and Mexico flaunts. The coconuts weighed about 12½ pounds each, so Melchior must have had quite a load to bring into Pottstown. A few years ago he gifted his friends with fig trees. He raised figs at his Monocacy home. He brought the trees from his native Italy. Melchior annually remembers his friends in Italy when he takes up a collection for his home town there.

CAMPUS-BOUND—The choice of college made by Loren H. Guss, Spring City, looks better and better these days. After a two-week vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Y. Guss, 440 Penn street, Spring City, he flew this week to the University of Miami, Fla. A 1949 graduate of Spring City High school, he is a Senior majoring in psychology at the university. . . . The American public was saved over three billion dollars last year by welding that was used in the production of automobiles. And, that's a conservative estimate.

★ NEW USE—Maybe you thought its uses had run the gamut from A to B! But the newest use of chlorophyll is in pills given to cows, to eliminate the garlic odor of milk given by bossie when she's been eating the wild plant in the Spring. . . . You're aware of course, of the fact the English call gasoline petrol, and the automobile, a motor car. Some other parallels have just been rounded up, though, that may be less familiar. Bumper guards over there are overriders, for instance. A car choke is a strangler, the dashboard is the fascia, fenders are wings, a dump truck is a tipper, the glove compartment is called a cubby locker. In dear old Britain the muffler becomes a silencer, a car window is a light, and hub caps are nave plates. When you want the carbon removed from your engine, you order a ge-coking job.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
ANY ONE OF us may some day have the chance to keep a person from committing suicide. It is not always possible to foresee when someone is in danger of taking his own life, but sometimes it is possible, and we should be prepared to recognize the condition.

Severely depressed withdrawn, or gloomy states of mind should be noticed especially in people close to us, like relatives. Many suicides could be prevented if people became conscious of states of depression when they occurred in members of the family, and took them immediately to their physician.

You may have heard of the club which devoted itself to recognizing imminent suicides and preventing them. This type of service calls for a keen awareness of the people around us.

Destructive states of mind do not always result in suicide. Many people show hidden suicidal tendencies by having no desire to fight their disease or illness.

Sometimes men or women die after a foolish feat of daring. This is seldom recognized as suicide, though it is often close to it.

Certain people are apt to have chronic recurring accidents due to their own carelessness. This may also show a suicidal tendency, if they are not making normal efforts to prevent accidents to themselves.

These are all borderline cases. When we come to out-and-out suicides, we find 22,000 reported each year in the United States, and over 100,000 attempts. In one year, 1947, there were about half as many suicidal deaths as deaths due to accidents in autos and other vehicles.

It so happened that several decades ago I was Coroner of Cook County. It was the coroner's duty to investigate every death due to casualty, violence, or undue means, and during that time there were many deaths from suicides. Because of the importance of the subject I made a special study during those years, as to just why people did commit suicide and to my surprise, I found out why many did not commit suicide.

All of us at some time or other have desperate problems that often make us doubt whether or not life is worth-while. Without exception, on personal investigation of each of these cases, I was unable ever to find anyone who had religious spirit.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

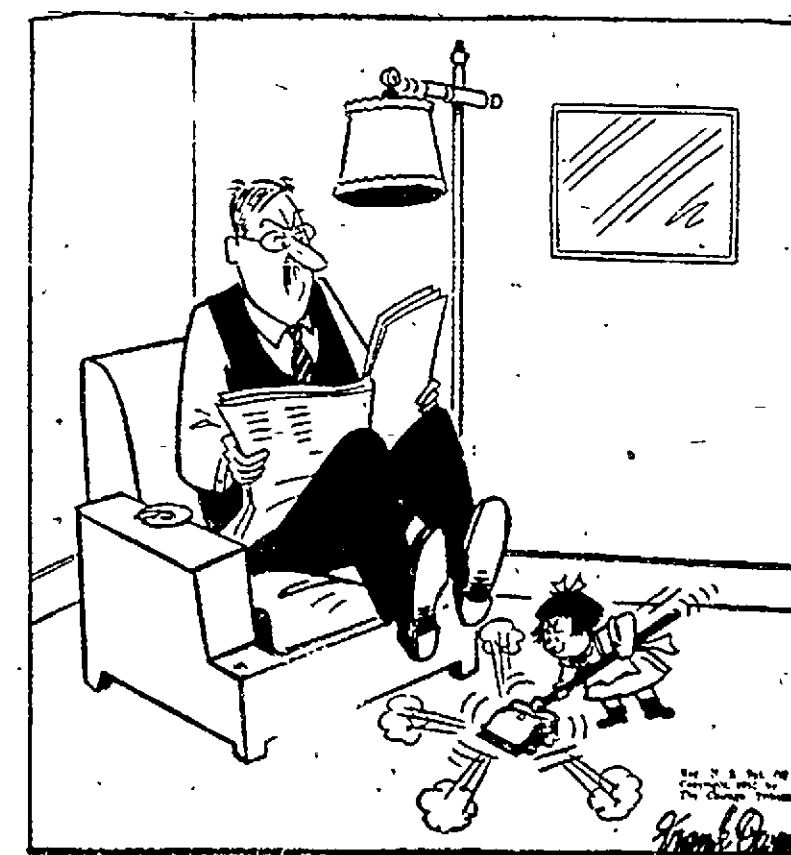

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9—Wonder what "giant brain" at Paramount could be "dreaming" of "White Christmas" with any star other than Bing Crosby. With the perfect set-up (Bing, Freddie Astaire and Rosemary Clooney) all lined up for this one, the whole thing is falling apart because, after two years on the agenda, "White Christmas" must (?) get a quick start! With Bing bowing out for a rest, Astaire too has taken leave.

But, since the studio has delayed this long lensing it, wouldn't halting a few months more for The Cros be worth the wait? The difference between what this picture would make with Bing—and what it WONT with another, is so obvious that nobody responsible for the "re- placement" has a right to scream about "bad business"—ever!

AS FOR Rosie Clooney, at least three other movies have already been "announced" for her as we've mentioned before. Chances are, if "Christmas" is put off, she'll be rushed into "Away We Go" as her next at Para. . . . D'you suppose all that to-do about Christine Jorgenson will put the song, "Wonderful Copenhagen" (from "Hans Christian Anderson") onto the Hit Parade? . . . Speaking of songs—Jane Powell and Gordon MacRae will sing five specially written numbers in "Two Sailors and a Girl" . . . Lord Mountbatten, no less, acted as technical advisor on "Sailor of the King." This is the film that Jeff Hunter and Michael Rennie recently completed in London.

YOUNG BRITISHER, Lawrence Harvey, yet to do his first Hollywood flicker, supe lined up a nice career for himself in the short time he's been here. He's wanted for a role in "The Robe"; will definitely have a lead in Metro's "Knights of the Round Table"; and the lead in R. K. O.'s "The Son of Sinbad." All of which gives Terry Moore the giggles. She's stuck on him—and vice versa. . . . Incidentally, "The Robe" spells Happy Times for hordes of Hollywood film extras—who've long had rough going. This epic will use 5000 "spear-carriers" before its three-month shooting is finis! Betty Hutton, with her "International Revue" troupe, takes off for San Francisco where she starts her tour, end of the week. . . . Jan Murray's blurb about a Hollywood boob: "He has more brains in his little finger than in his big head" . . . Looks like Sonny Tufts and Debbie Smith got around to each other—and decided to stay there.

Jesus Warns Disciples Against False Duty Ideas

Hypocrites Want Sign From Heaven; Response of Christ Is Crushing

The Golden Text

The Christ.
"Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."—Matthew 16:16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN OUR efforts to confess and follow our Lord, our lesson today shows how false ideas of truth and duty may be misleading and may persuade to the very opposite of what we strive to achieve. This is as true today—even more so—than it was in Jesus' day when He pointed out this danger to His disciples.

The conservative Pharisees and the modernistic Sadducees came to Jesus on a mountain in northern Palestine, and, tempting Him, asked for a sign from heaven. Christ's answer was marvelous and crushing to these hypocritical men who always asked, not for information, but with the sole purpose of tripping Jesus and giving them an excuse to injure Him.

"When it is evening," said Christ, "ye say, it will be fair weather; for the sky is red."

"And in the morning, it will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can see the face of the sky, but can ye not discern the signs of the times?"

Further the Lord said, "A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas." And He left them and departed.

When Jesus and the disciples arrived on the other side, they found they had forgotten to bring food, and Jesus said to them, "Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the Sadducees."

This puzzled the disciples and they reasoned that Christ's words alluded to the fact that they had no bread. But Jesus, reading their minds, reproved them and reminded them of the 5,000. He had fed with five loaves and a few fishes and the 4,000 who had been plentifully fed from seven loaves, as we have read in previous lessons. Then they realized that Jesus meant that they should beware of the doctrines of the Pharisees and Sadducees, which might act as a leaven to nullify their faith.

When they had come into the

Confessing and Following Christ ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

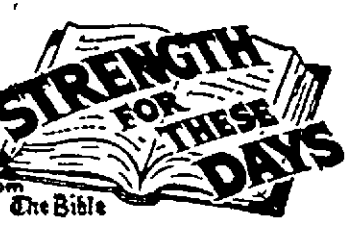

The Pharisees and Sadducees came to Christ, asking for a sign from heaven. Jesus rebuked them, saying that they could discern signs of the weather from the skies, but could not see the signs of the times.

Jesus asked His disciples whom men said He was. Some said one of the prophets. Then Christ asked, "Whom do ye say?" and Peter answered, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."

"Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona," Jesus answered, "for flesh and blood hath not revealed it to thee, but My Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee that thou art Peter, and upon this rock will I build My church."

From that time forth Jesus began to show His disciples how He must go to Jerusalem, suffer, die and be raised again. Peter rebuked Him, but Jesus silenced him.

For Thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for Thy Name's sake lead me, and guide me.—(Psalm XXXI, 3.)

Of what benefit or value is the leadership or advice of the wisest and ablest of men if they themselves are without the guidance of God? We know from the Bible that such blessed guidance is not, however, reserved to any one set of men but is available to the least of us who, through righteousness, will make ourselves worthy in the sight of the Lord and seek His help.

THIEF ROBS STORE WHILE PROPRIETOR'S BACK TURNED

Automatic candid camera snaps thief in action. Police have clues to identity.

"Small-time crook playing for peanuts," someone says, tossing aside the newspaper. But small-time crooks often become big-times. And even "peanuts" are important.

Too many times somebody's back has been turned while this young fellow (and others like him) have been growing up. Too many times somebody has overlooked petty offenses, remarking, "Boys will be boys." Too many times these little misdeeds have mushroomed into serious crimes.

A young person who learns through home and church "to love the Lord thy God . . . and thy neighbor . . ." will not even want to commit such deeds against his neighbors. If his mind and heart are filled with the goodness of God, he will want to show that goodness and kindness to others.

Don't turn your back on youngsters. But turn your feet and heart toward the Church, and take these young folk with you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force for good in the world. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his family's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his money, talent, support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Grace Members Will Dedicate Themselves to Building

Three Special Communion Services Will Be Held in Church Tomorrow

Members of Grace Lutheran church will dedicate themselves to their new building program at three special Communion Services tomorrow.

In a "spirit of rejoicing and thanksgiving," communicants will attend the services and receive the Sacrament at 7:30 a. m.; 10:30 a. m., or 7:30 p. m.

An effort is being made to have all 834 members of Grace church attend at some time during the day and evening.

The thanksgiving services are being held because of the unanimous decision at the congregational meeting in the Die Casters club the past Thursday night to build a new church home.

THE NEW $400,000 structure will be erected on the new church lot at Charlotte street and Nightingale avenue. Construction is expected to begin soon.

The Rev. Edgar S. Brown Jr., pastor of Grace church, will preach sermons on the theme of building at each of the three services tomorrow.

Special prayers and thanksgiving have been composed by the Rev. Brown and will be offered by him during the services.

Each member will be asked to dedicate himself anew as he receives Holy Communion so that every one in the congregation may be ready to do his best in the building program.

The nature of the services will be one of grateful thanksgiving for the progress made thus far in the program for the new church, the pastor said last night.

THE BUILDING program was initiated about ten years ago when the congregation first began to set aside money in a special fund. Since then $216,000 has been put into the project.

Contributions to the church amounted to $80,000 in the year 1952 alone, the highest amount given for a single year in the history of Grace church.

While members are being encouraged to contact other members and urge them to attend services tomorrow, the pastor has emphasized that all guests will be most welcome.

Church Brotherhood Elects New Officers

An election of officers highlighted the meeting of St. John's Reformed church Brotherhood held in the church social rooms last night.

The following officers were elected: Raymond Hohl, president; J. Russell Reifsnider, vice president; Samuel I. Wagner Sr., secretary; Albert K. Mauger, treasurer.

Various members of the Brotherhood gave descriptions of what they considered their most interesting experiences of 1952. Reifsnider presided at the meeting.

Archbishop Reaches Rome After Storm-Lashed Trip

ROME, Jan. 9 (AP)—American Cardinal-designate James Francis Aloysius McIntyre landed here to night after a storm-lashed plane trip from New York to take part in next week's papal consistory that will give 24 prelates their princely Red Hats.

In all, it took 28 hours for the two planes carrying Archbishop McIntyre's party to make the trip from New York to Rome. They were forced to turn back over mid-Atlantic last night and wait at Gander, Nfld., for fog to lift over western Europe.

The TWA "Star of Rome," carrying part of McIntyre's party, landed first at Campiano airport. A few minutes later, the sister ship "Star of Vatican," carrying the Los Angeles Archbishop and 40 members of his party, touched down.

Federal Aid Is Asked To Help Health Services

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—President Truman, recognizing that his compulsory national health insurance plan is stymied for the present, today called for Federal aid to States to improve the nation's health services.

He recommended that Congress vote a series of grants-in-aid to State and local health programs—a "grass roots" approach, he said, to bring adequate health care within the financial means of all Americans.

Truman made the recommendation in submitting the first volume of a report by the commission he set up a year ago to "make a fresh appraisal" of the nation's health needs.

Bible Federation To Be Entertained By Trinity EC Class

Friendship Bible class of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church will be host to Pottstown's Federation of Men's Bible classes at the monthly meeting of the organization Tuesday night.

The Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical, will speak on the topic "A Mighty Fortress" during the meeting in the sanctuary.

Group singing, business, a social period and refreshments will also have their places on the program.

Greetings will be extended by Charles L. Rohland for the Friendship class. William D. Schoenly will read from the Scriptures and Forrest B. Fritz will offer prayer.

WILLIS BRIDEGAM, organist at Trinity Evangelical, will play an organ solo.

Refreshments will be served in the church basement after the meeting.

Men of Trinity Evangelical's Harmony Bible class of young married couples have been invited to attend and join in the fellowship, the Rev. Floyd said.

Marriage Preparation Classes to Be Given At Catholic Church

A second term of marriage preparation classes will begin on Monday at St. Aloysius Parochial school, the Rev. Michael Leo Walsh, assistant rector of the church and class director, announced.

The classes for engaged couples and those who plan to marry are free to all who wish to attend, Father Walsh emphasized.

Classes will be held weekly on Monday nights, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Father Walsh will also teach the program of religious instruction for Catholic pupils attending public high school. This program also begins its second term Monday, with classes lasting from 7 p. m. to 8 p. m.

THE REV. WILLIAM M. BEGLE, rector of St. Aloysius church, will teach grades 10, 11 and 12. Subjects he will discuss include "Highlights in Church History" and "Catholic Morality."

Grades 7, 8 and 9 will be taught by Father Walsh. His subjects will be "Catholic Doctrine" and "Means of Grace."

Bible Words to Live by

EPHESIANS 2:8—"For by grace are ye saved through faith."

When standing in the presence of God I take my moral measurement in the light of his perfection how inadequate my goodness appears and how impossible it seems to merit salvation. Then I am thankful for the grace of God. By this grace he forgives and accepts me not according to the pitiful deeds in my hand but according to the desires and purposes in my heart. This attitude of heart called faith is a life changing force for it binds one in loyalty to Jesus Christ in such way that progressively one thinks as he thinks, feels as he feels, and does as he does. So the words of this scripture give me quiet assurance that God has accepted me and at the same time they give a drive toward Christian living. It is one of my favorite verses.

TRINITY CHURCH TO HEAR CHORUS FROM FIRESTONE

Bible Class to Sponsor One-Hour Concert at 3 P. M. Tomorrow

The Firestone chorus of 20 male voices will sing at Trinity Evangelical church tomorrow afternoon under the sponsorship of the church's Harmony Bible class.

The one-hour concert at 3 o'clock will be the first appearance of the chorus at Trinity church and the first such event presented by the new Bible class of young married couples.

Director of the chorus will be Robert H. Kichline, who also is choir director at First Methodist church. Ruth R. Miller, Boyertown pianist, will be the accompanist.

In addition to the 10 vocal numbers to be presented by the chorus, there will be several solos.

INCLUDED IN THESE will be the vocal solo "I Walked Where Jesus Walked" by O'Hara, which will be sung by Edwin Weidner.

Earl S. Yohn will play two violin solos, "Intermezzo," by Bizet, and "Poem" by Fibich. He will be accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Yohn and at the piano by Miss Miller.

Vocal selection to be sung by the chorus include "Morning" (Speaks-Baldwin), "This Is My Father's World" (English melody), "Where 'ere You Walk" (Handel-Hopkin).

"The Pilgrims' Chorus" from Tannhauser (Wagner), "Wienlied" (Brahms), "Beautiful Savior" (Silesian folk song), "Thanks Be To God" (Dickson-Salter), "A Sacred Head" (Hassler-Luvas), "God's Son Has Made Me Free" (Grieg-Overby), and "God of Our Fathers" (Warren-Helfenbein).

Burton Beck, president of the 50-member sponsoring group, will greet the audience before the concert begins in the church sanctuary. The Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical, will pronounce the benediction.

The committee of Bible class members who arranged for the musical includes Forrest B. Fritz, teacher and Sunday school superintendent, President Beck; Maurice Kurtz, vice president of the class; Mrs. Maurice Kurtz, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Detwiler, treasurer.

A free-will offering will be lifted at the conclusion of the concert.

Immigration Officers Bar Former Pittsburgh Minister
TORONTO, Jan. 9 (AP)—A former Episcopal minister in Pittsburgh, Rev. R. H. Thomas, has been refused permission to re-enter the United States, it was learned today.

US immigration officials here gave no details regarding the ruling. They said Immigration Director A. J. Karnuth in Buffalo "would likely confirm" the decision.

Kissing Games Ruled Out for 7th Grade Classes in Science

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., Jan. 9 (U)—There will be no more kissing games in the seventh grade general science classes at Washington High school, not even in the interest of general science.

The county board of education has stopped them.

Louis L. Pund, the 40-year-old science and mathematics teacher who put "postoffice" in the curriculum, faced "further action," his supervisor announced.

Pund did not wait for the action. He resigned this morning.

Pund said his idea was to help his 12-year-old seventh graders overcome their inhibitions.

"I BELIEVE it would draw them out," he said.

"Lots of boys and girls are afraid and have inhibitions."

Pund started what he calls his experiment about a month ago with the 65 pupils in his two seventh grade science classes.

The class would elect a boy and he would go into an adjoining cloak room. Then he'd call out the name of a girl to come in and kiss him.

Next it was a girl's turn to be "it."

"It was a very noisy game," Pund said.

Pund's classes tried postoffice four times before parents started complaining to the principal.

John L. Bond, county supervisor of high schools, announced the experiment had been stopped.

"I knew there would be repercussions," Pund said.

"I believe in being different. Everybody who is a little different is considered eccentric. My hobby is psychology."

NASTY WEATHER —

rather cold tomorrow.

MORE THAN two inches of rain washed the borough yesterday.

The rainmaker dumped 1.26 inches out of gray clouds by 8 o'clock yesterday morning. An additional .84 inches emptied on the area by 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

By midnight last night a drizzle had added .12 inches to make a total of 2.25 inches.

At 6 o'clock last night the Schuylkill read six feet, 2.5 feet above normal, but seven feet shy of flood stage.

Matthew I. Peacock, Reading weather bureau, reported no flood dangers. Early this morning the river read 4.59 feet in Reading.

PEACOCK REPORTED more rain or snow probably will soak the area Monday and Tuesday.

The temperature, yesterday remained steady. It varied only one degree. It was 36 at 1 o'clock yesterday morning and it was 36 at midnight last night.

The rain eliminated snow as a driving hazard, but added a hazard in its own right.

Driving still was not normal, although area police reported conditions improved.

The highest temperature for the week was 48, recorded on Monday. The lowest reading was registered on Tuesday when thermometers dipped to 26.

FORMER STAR DIES

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 9 (U)—Mrs. Lila Hyams, 71, one-time Broadway star and mother of the former screen actress of the same name, died today.

Woman Is Sentenced To Life Imprisonment For Tokyo Murder

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 10 (U)—A US Army court-martial today convicted Dorothy Krueger Smith, daughter of a World War II general, of murdering her colonel husband and sentenced her to life in prison.

The attractive 40-year-old woman was convicted on premeditated murder in stabbing Col. Aubrey Smith, 45, of Booneville, Mo., with a foot-long Okinawa hunting knife as he lay asleep Oct. 3 in their Washington Heights bedroom near Tokyo.

The nine-member board including one woman deliberated about 65 minutes in reaching its decision to convict. At least six votes were required.

Mrs. Smith showed no emotion when the verdict was read.

THE COURT went out a second time to consider the sentence. It took 30 minutes. Seven votes were needed for life imprisonment.

The sentence will be reviewed by two commands in Tokyo and an Army board in Washington.

Maj. Gen. Joseph Sullivan, president of the court-martial board, was flushed and crying as he read the sentence. He spoke in a barely audible voice.

After hearing the sentence, Mrs. Smith took a sip of water and marched from the courtroom, stiffly erect with her head held high. Earlier, during the closing argument, she broke down in tears and a recess was called.

Two Cars Damaged In Town Accident

Two cars were damaged badly in a collision at North Evans and Beech streets shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. Neither driver was hurt.

Michael Budich, 306 North Evans street, told police he was going north on North Evans street about 20 miles an hour when a black sedan crossed the intersection in front of him.

"I couldn't avoid hitting him," Budich asserted. "It looked to me as if he'd just blown his horn and gone right through the stop sign."

The driver of the other car, Douglas Drumheller, 563 King street, denied going through the stop sign. He said he'd made the full stop, blown his horn and was crossing the intersection when the Budich vehicle hit him. He was traveling west on Beech street.

THE FRONT grill and radiator of the Budich car were pushed in and the left rear fender of the other machine was rammed against the tire.

Both cars were towed from the scene.

Woman Slips on Walk, Suffers Fractured Leg

Mrs. Estella Buck, 27 College avenue, Trappe, was given dispensary treatment yesterday in Memorial hospital for a fracture of her lower left leg suffered in a fall on a slippery pavement.

She fell on the sidewalk by her home Thursday night. A "walking iron" was put on the leg.

Doehler Fellowship club announced last night the regular meeting scheduled for this month has been postponed.

The club committee will meet next Wednesday night to decide on a club meeting date for next month due to the possibility of its conflicting with the Charity ball.

Small States Lose Round in Battle Over Europe Confederation

STRASBOURG, France, Jan. 9 (U)—The small States tonight lost a preliminary round of their battle with the large States in writing a charter for a future six-nation Confederation of Europe.

Representatives from these six nations voted down a motion by Pierre Wigny of Belgium to give Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg as many seats in the confederation's Senate as France, West Germany and Italy would have.

The vote, on a show of hands, was not tallied.

THIS AND OTHER decisions by 78 legislators from the six nations are not final. They are only directives for the future work of a drafting committee.

The vote was a tactical setback to Wigny, who earlier pushed through an amendment basing the number of seats in the lower house on population instead of a system weighted to favor the small countries. Wigny obviously expected that a concession to the more populous States in the lower house would—as happened when the US Constitution was framed—produce a concession to the small States in the upper chamber.

Eisenhower Administration to Inherit Fund for Perishable Farm Products

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U)—The incoming Eisenhower administration will inherit a "savings-account" fund of about 475 million dollars which it could use to support prices of perishable farm products.

This fact was disclosed today in a budget message President Truman sent to Congress recommending appropriations for the Agriculture department and other Government agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The question of supporting prices of perishable farm products, poultry, fruits and vegetables—has been a political issue for several years. Few have been supported under the Truman Administration because, in its view, the Government had no effective method.

For many years Congress has directed that 30 percent of custom receipts be turned over to the Agriculture department to help dispose of price-depressing surpluses. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has not made full use of this fund because he objected to use of Government funds to buy perishable products for purpose of bolstering prices.

BRANNAN HAD SUGGESTED instead treasury payments to producers to assure them adequate prices. Congress rejected this plan largely on the ground that it would cost too much.

This year agriculture's share of the customs receipts was put at $181,040,000 of which only 75 million will have been used. The past year, the receipts were $158,886,000, and only $54,538,000 was used.

The budget message said that because all the custom receipts have not been used, a reserve of 300 million dollars has been accumulated to be added to new receipts estimated at $172,800,000 to be received during the coming fiscal year.

Hit-Run Driver Gets $100 Fine for Trappe Crash

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Jan. 9 — Accused of hit-run charges as a result of an accident in Trappe on Dec. 22, John L. Lyons, Penlyny, was fined $100 by Judge Forrest yesterday.

Lyons pleaded guilty to the accusation lodged by Harry Mohnshine, Annville, who reported his car was sideswiped on Main street, Trappe, on Dec. 22. Mohnshine obtained the license number of the Lyons' vehicle and turned it over to Chief William B. Sprouse.

Pittsburgh Gets Cleaner Each Day, Report Shows

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 9 (U)—Once known as the smoky city, Pittsburgh is getting cleaner every day—and the mayor's committee for a cleaner city offered a one-inch thick report today to prove it.

Among the statistics included in the 1952 report:

More than 19,000 tons of rubbish were removed during a 96-day block-by-block cleanup.

Some 1500 notices were sent to violators of the sanitation code and 185 arrests were made for illegal dumping.

33 Ship Survivors Picked Up; 8 Others Are Still Missing

TOKYO, Saturday, Jan. 10 (U)—The Japanese Maritime Safety board reported Friday that rescue ships had picked up 33 survivors of the ill-fated Swedish tanker Avanti but eight others, including the skipper, were missing and feared dead.

The 10,034-ton vessel from Gothenburg broke in half off Okinawa during a Pacific gale Thursday.

The Japanese patrol ship Kusagaki reported 21 survivors in a lifeboat were taken aboard the freighter Kanazu Maru. It said 11 others were aboard a Chinese Nationalist freighter from Formosa, possibly the Yen Ping out of Keelung. One more person was aboard the British vessel Eastern.

The safety board said survivors aboard the Kanazu declared eight of their comrades had perished when mountainous waves cracked the Avanti in half.

Another report said the ship's skipper, Capt. Goesta Ronge, navigation officers and the chief engineer were among the eight reported clinging to the forward half of the vessel when last seen.

Exotic Zebra, Violet Woods Share Limelight With Black Walnut, Cherry

From ocean voyages to prairie wearability of various woods. "American black walnut and cherry are the best furniture woods in this area. Original Victorian chairs were made from the hard walnut and Colonial pieces from the soft, lustrous cherry," he said.

While mahogany is considered the finest of woods for no wood worms attack it, it is exceedingly rare and expensive. It's primary use is one of restoration in fine old pieces of furniture, he explained.

Other Colonial pieces, as Sheridan chairs, were made from curly maple, which received its name from the wavy grain seen in its refinished surface.

Hedge apples, those knobby, pefruit-like balls, come from an osage hedge. The best sample of it is found in Texas where the wood is used in fence posts. It resists ground rot for long periods of time.

"One of the most exotic of the trees is Brazilian violet wood. It is used primarily for buttons and buckles on women's clothes."

Samples of rare woods accompanied Mr. Hogg's talk.

He told of teak wood from Siam where it is so common and water-resistant that garden gates, fences and furniture are made from it.

Today work uses white holly, a pale tan-colored wood, found in Georgia; and Central American zebra wood, named for its striped grain, it put on interior door or window trim.

Mr. Hogg's wood pieces, trays, vases and figurines, are often used in floral arrangements.

Yesterday's arrangement winners fell into one of three categories:

Horticulture: in class 1, an African violet blooming freely, first prize went to Mrs. Carson C. Potter. A white bloom took second prize for Mrs. Walter Krause. Mrs. Walter Schell won honorable mention.

A bloomless croton gave a first in house plants to Mrs. Horace Schumacher. The croton is a broad-leaved plant of red, white and green streaks.

Though no one could positively identify Mrs. Samuel Harner's cactus type plant, she won second prize.

Red Cox comb and drift wood gave a first in dried arrangements to Mrs. C. C. Burdan.

Red flowers seemed to grow on a branch and pods to fall from it in Mrs. Edwin Yarnall's second prize winner.

A river-bank trek was necessary for Mrs. C. C. Potter to collect her creamy brown swamp fungus which she combined with red and beige blooms for the third place arrangement.

Flower arranging will be lectured upon by Mrs. Marion Morris Jenkins Feb. 6 at 2 p. m. in Library hall.

TOTING what proved to be prize-winning flora are Mrs. Carson C. Potter (left), Mrs. Horace Schumacher and Mrs. C. C. Burdan. At the meeting yesterday in Library hall, Mrs. Potter's African violet was judged first class material. A strange red, white and green streaked leafy plant won a first in houseplants for Mrs. Schumacher. Mrs. Burdan chose to combine red coxcomb and drift wood for her first place dried arrangement.

Dorothy Mae Rieger Will Become John Andrew Moorehead's Bride Today In Trappe Lutheran Church With Rev. Paul Yount Officiating

Dorothy Mae Rieger will become the bride of John Andrew Moorehead Jr. today at 2 p. m. in Augustus Lutheran church, Trappe.

Miss Rieger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Rieger, Royersford RD 1. Mr. and Mrs. John Andrew Moorehead, 40 First avenue, Trappe, are Mr. Moorehead's parents.

The Rev. Paul L. Yount, pastor, will perform the double ring ceremony as Miss Rieger is given in marriage by her father.

The bride will wear a gown of lace over satin with a crown beaded dress and fingertip veil of nylon net. She will carry a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor will be Barbara Hannan, Collegeville RD 2. Her gown will be light blue satin and place with a matching picture hat. She also will carry a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

William Poley, Trappe, will perform the duties of best man; ushers will be Clinton Bishop, Skippack, and David Meyers, Graterford.

Organist, Pauline Bedner, and soloist, Evelyn Yeagle, will provide music in the palm and flower decked church.

Twelve palms will be placed in the church with two stands of mixed white snapdragons and pompons on the altar.

A reception will be held at Moorehead's Banquet hall after the wedding.

The couple will honeymoon in New York for five days after which they will live at the home of Mr. Moorehead's parents.

The bride will travel in a navy blue dress with matching accessories. She will wear a white llama coat.

Both Miss Rieger and Mr. Moorehead are graduates of Collegeville-Trappe High school. She is employed at the Collegeville National bank; Mr. Moorehead is employed by Ray A. Shaffer.

Women's Activities

Esther Mary Reinert Becomes Bride of Howard Lewis Barton At Private Afternoon Ceremony in Emmanuel Lutheran Church

At a private afternoon ceremony in Emmanuel Lutheran church, Esther Mary Reinert became the bride of Howard Lewis Barton.

The Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor, performed the single ring ceremony with the maid of honor, Edna Fowler, and the best man, Donald Fowler, as witnesses.

Miss Reinert is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levie Doaty, 170 Bird street, Birdsboro. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Theodore Barton, 610 North Charlotte street.

The bride's light blue ballerina length gown was made of lace with a nylon net skirt. The bodice was covered with a lace jacket featuring a peter pan collar, long tapering sleeves and tiny covered buttons down the front.

She wore a shoulder length veil which fell from a skull cap of matching blue. Ballerina slippers, also in blue, completed the bride's ensemble.

Miss Reinert carried a bouquet of white roses centered with three pink roses.

The maid of honor, Edna Fowler, Keworth, was dressed in a rose gray satin gown of ballerina length.

It was topped with a mandarin collar and silver slippers showed from beneath her satin skirt.

Miss Fowler carried a bouquet of pink roses. The rose motif was carried out on her silver hat.

Donald Fowler served as best man for the bridegroom.

Approximately 20 guests attended the buffet luncheon which was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton now live in their new apartment at 265 King street.

Graduate of West Pottsgrove, Helen Marie Molitoriz, Marries Andrew S. Metzgar Jr., Phoenixville Man, in Elkton Ceremony

Helen Marie Molitoriz chose a teal blue velvet suit for her wedding to Andrew S. Metzgar Jr.

Double ring rites performed by a Justice of the Peace in Elkton, Md., united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Molitoriz, 206 Howard street, and her fiance, Mr. Metzgar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Metzgar Sr., Kleyona avenue, Phoenixville.

With her deep blue suit, the bride wore a small cap of white tulle with a tiny nosegay veil.

Apeplum-backed jacket, cut in a V neckline, went above a straight skirt. Pearls adorned her throat and at her ears were her jewelry.

Sister of the groom, Jean Metzgar, acted as Miss Molitoriz's maid of honor. She chose a jersey frock of navy blue with dark blue accessories.

Clayton O. Steltzer, Phoenixville,

stood with Mr. Metzgar as his best man.

After her graduation in 1951 from West Pottsgrove High school, the bride went to work for Bell Telephone company.

Her husband attended Phoenixville schools and joined the Army from which he was discharged the past February.

He now is employed with a Phoenixville contractor. The couple is living with the groom's parents in Phoenixville.

Mrs. Metzgar met her husband when she was in Phoenixville visiting friends. While standing on a corner, she saw her husband trying to start his car.

"All it needs," she said to him in tones of resignation, "is a good driver." She hopped in and proved her words.

Pottstown Florists Greeted by Snow After Florida Trip

Mr. and Mrs. William McElroy were ready to head back for Florida after being greeted by the cold and snow Thursday afternoon when they reached Pottstown.

After a two-week vacation in Florida, Mr. and Mrs. McElroy, florists at 21 Reynolds avenue, were surprised to see snow after the sunshine and warm weather which they had been enjoying.

During their stay in Florida, the couple visited Silver Springs, the Cypress Gardens and made a tour through the citrus groves.

Mr. and Mrs. McElroy brought back oranges and grapefruit which were picked from the trees as they waited. They also brought honey, syrup and nut candy from the South.

On their way home, Mr. and Mrs. McElroy visited friends in Birmingham, Ala.

HER MOTHER said the girl was not in bed when she looked in the room at 8 a. m. the past Tuesday.

Her half brother reported the girl had attended Monaca school until recently, when she left with a working certificate to help-care for her mother who is ill.

He also said she had only about $3 and that there were no family quarrels.

VACANT CHAPEL —

In an equity case in Berks county court, the supervisors were given the authority to destroy the chapel.

According to township supervisors, Andrew G. Kriebel, Earl T. Geisinger and Raymond G. Albitz, however, the primary concern of the township is to remove the hazard of children being injured by objects falling from the stone building.

ALBITZ SAID, "The roof is falling and all the window panes are out, but the walls are strong. It is a sturdy stone structure and if anyone is willing to fix it up we have no objection."

Judge Mays said a sale probably will be arranged the latter part of February.

The chapel was built about 70 years ago for religious meetings of all denominations. A community built up around it and was named Chapel after the church. In anticipation of the tearing down of the historical landmark, the cornerstone was removed and placed in the Pennsburg library for preservation.

GOULD'S STORE —

A. Bolen, trading as Bolen and company, Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia firm, a company specializing in business liquidations, took over Mosheim's this past Nov. 1.

The Mosheim clothing company was organized in 1877.

Gould opened his shop at 231 High street in 1940 after eight years of roving with the Moskin company, a chain clothing firm with headquarters in Philadelphia.

He first came to the borough in 1934 to manage the Moskin store, then located in Pottstown.

After two and one-half years he was transferred to Easton and then moved to Chester with the Philadelphia firm.

BUT HE REMEMBERED Pottstown. Gould explained, "I always liked Pottstown and I decided if I ever went into business for myself I would come back. In May of 1940 I left the Moskin company and came to 231 High street."

"I think the town has been very good to me in 12 years of business here. I like the people here."

His experience in the past has shown equal sales in men's and women's lines.

The firm will continue to trade under the name of Gould's Thrifty clothing and will continue its policy of extending credit.

GOULD SAID, "We will increase our stock in the new location extensively. Our renovation will include new wall fixtures and new display cases."

The store at 231 High street measures 13 by 60 feet (980 square feet). The former Mosheim store measures 18 by 140 feet (2520 square feet).

When Gould began his Pottstown business 12 years ago he hired two persons to work with him in the store.

His present force includes eight employees, four of whom work on a full-time basis.

Gould lives at 1428 Sunset drive.

The Mosheim clothing business was founded by the late Samuel Mosheim, who retired in 1922 after 45 years in the business. The store was at 144 High street until it was moved to its present location in 1897.

Following his retirement, the business, which had been known as S. Mosheim and Sons, was organized under its present name.

Woodley Asks Parole From Prison

cally that he actually had murdered Mrs. Green, whom he said he knew.

HE INDICATED he had made the confession because he was nervously upset. The district attorney has said repeatedly that he does not believe Woodley committed the murder but made a false confession to speed his shipment home.

In addition to denying the murder, Woodley said during the Lewisburg interview that he was at her apartment during the murder weekend. "I didn't kill her," he said. "She was dead when I got there."

The granting or denying of Woodley's parole rests entirely with the US Board of Parole, Fitzpatrick said, and prison officials have no knowledge of what the board's decision will be.

If the board grants him parole, they will set a day for his release sometime, after Feb. 28, when he becomes eligible for parole.

He would not, however, be released on the date set by the board unless his parole plan is completed and is approved by the US probation officer.

A COMPLETE parole plan includes having an adviser and offer of employment. The same person cannot be both adviser and employer.

If the board denies him parole, the "good-time" he is earning for satisfactory conduct in the penitentiary would still count and he would be released on his conditional release date, May 27, 1956, provided his conduct remains satisfactory.

Mrs. Green's body was found in her apartment on Monday morning, Dec. 10, 1946. No one ever has reported seeing her alive after late the previous Saturday afternoon.

Gerald C. Wentzel, who lived then in Kenilworth and who lives now in Pottstown, admitted visiting her apartment that Sunday night at 11 p. m. He, too, said she was dead when he got there.

In April of 1947, he was convicted of second-degree murder and was sentenced to serve 10-20 years in the Eastern penitentiary, Graterford.

After a four-year fight for freedom, in which he was aided by The Mercury, he received a "commutation of maximum sentence" from the State Board of Pardons, and on May 24, 1951, he was released.

The rarely-used commutation released him without the restrictions of parole, but the conviction remains on his record.

There now are 850 employees at the plant, the highest employment there since the end of World War II. Most departments are working more than 40 hours a week, with a few working 52 and 53 hours, the general manager asserted.
